SURGING CHINESE DRIVE TO DIVIDE FORCES OF FOE

Determined Onslaught at Shanghai For Wreck
In Japanese Ranks

NIPPONESE PUSHED BACK NEAR RIVER

President Hoover In Record Run To Evacuate
More Americans

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS
SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—(P)—Japan's heavily reinforced army was in imminent danger of being split in two and driven back into the Whangpoo river tonight by a surging Chinese drive.

After fighting off a full day of repeated Japanese stab attacks the Chinese thrust a powerful wedge into the broken Japanese lines, pushing their foe to within 500 yards of the murky river.

The Japanese positions were shattered just a mile below the Astor House hotel in the heart of the Japanese area of the international settlement.

With the water at their backs the Japanese were battling hard to keep from being cut in two. Tanks and armored cars were rushed into the area to bolster the Japanese bluejackets who were slowly but relentlessly being forced to give ground.

The Chinese thrust came amid Japan's first major offensive in the Kiangwan area of North Shanghai where Shanghai's great civic center is located. There, the Chinese apparently were holding their own against Japanese infantry, artillery, naval and air attacks.

Heavy reinforcements of regular army troops from Japan heartened the attackers in this sector. Seven transport loads of men, munitions and artillery were landed at the Yangtze docks in the Japanese sector of the international settlement; sixteen Japanese troop ships, carrying 20,000 men, lay off the mouth of the Yangtze, ready to disembark their fighters under the guns of Japanese destroyers.

The Japanese sought to cut off the Chinese in Shanghai from the Yangtze, to the north. There were reports that 800,000 Chinese were concentrated at Nanking, the capital up the Yangtze, to reinforce the more than 100,000 already fighting about 25,000 Japanese bluejackets there.

Bombs Miss Mark

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and smashed at the American Southern Baptist Mission in the Chapei quarter in North Shanghai and at the American Mission hospital at Nantungchow, up the Yangtze in Kiangsu province. The mission suffered heavily, and the fate of its 20 Americans was not known. The bombs apparently were aimed at a power house.

The international radio station at Chenchu, near Shanghai, also was air-bombed, without important damage.

American consular authorities took a firm stand against a Japanese naval plan to take complete control of the river Whangpoo, by which foreigners must be evacuated to the sea.

From North China came word of a Japanese advance 65 miles up Nankow Pass, the gateway to Chinese provinces Japan has not conquered. In the south, a cholera epidemic spread in the British crown colony of Hongkong.

United States Consul General Clarence F. Gauss decisively told Japanese naval authorities traffic

COMMISSION TO SENATOR BLACK

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Senator Hugo L. Black received from the hands of President Roosevelt today his commission as an associate justice of the supreme court.

The 51-year-old Alabama, dressed in a white summer suit left a White House luncheon conference with the President carrying the commission in a cardboard container.

He said he had not decided when, or where, he would take the constitutional oath.

He added, however, he believed he would take the oath late today or tomorrow.

He said he would resign from the senate at about the time he was sworn.

He said he talked with Governor Graves of Alabama for about five minutes today but would not say whether his successor as senator was discussed.

He expressed belief, in response to a question, that the court petition to prevent his assuming the bench, filed yesterday by Albert Levitt, former federal judge would have no effect on his taking his new office.

Black remained with the President more than an hour and a half.

Secretary Ickes, who was waiting to discuss public works matter, with the President was present when the commission was delivered.

PROPOSES TRUCE IN SHANGHAI BATTLE

PARIS, Aug. 19.—France joined Great Britain today in proposing an immediate truce in the disastrous battle between China and Japan which is endangering thousands of foreigners at Shanghai.

The foreign ministry, upon receipt of the British suggestion, at once dispatched a note of approval to London.

It was understood China and Japan would be asked to abandon their Shanghai lines and leave England, France and the United States to safeguard the interests of the warring nations.

TAX PLAYGROUNDS AT SMITH-COTTON ATHLETIC FIELD

Donald Davenport Tells Kiwanians of Summer
Activities There

Playground activity has almost taxed the capacity of the accommodations at Smith-Cotton high school this summer, according to Don Davenport, athletic coach, who has been devoting considerable supervision time to this program. In a talk before Sedalia Kiwanis club in Hotel Bothwell this noon he revealed that 24 sacks of lime had been used on the tennis courts and five nets worn out. The daily attendance is close to 150.

Volley ball and soft ball has also had a big following. The speaker urged that some consideration be given to the promotion of dramatics and art or hand work for those children who are not interested in athletic games.

Children from East Sedalia are the biggest patrons of the playgrounds. With increased interest in supervised play, Mr. Davenport pointed out, there will be need of extension of playgrounds in Sedalia and more supervision.

Boys on the Junior softball teams have developed keen competition and have been rewarded trips to Marshall to play winning teams of that town.

Speaking of the senior softball program of which Mr. Davenport is district commissioner, he said that in this area (Central Missouri) about 150 players are active in addition to hundreds of fans who follow the teams to see them play night games. Friday there will be a game to determine the Central Missouri representation in the state-wide contest at St. Joseph. The speaker thanked the Kiwanis club for the support it had given the soft ball activity.

Hugo Spahn, program chairman, who introduced the speaker, made a short talk concerning the high school football team and suggested civic clubs unite to provide the team with hoods for protection from weather. The matter was referred favorably to the Public Affairs committee.

Paul Hedderich received a six-order lubrication credit from John Ryan of Thompson Chevrolet Co. in the attendance booster program. Kiwanians were delighted with a musical program provided by J. T. Alexander who appeared in the role of acrobatic fiddler; also entertaining selections provided by Mildred "Happy" Moser playing her saxophone accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Glenn Moser.

WILKINS TO JOIN SEARCH FOR FLIERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A huge flying boat equipped for Arctic operations left Long Island Sound at 11:40 a. m. (EST) today on the first leg of a flight which will carry Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, into the far North to aid in the search for six missing Soviet trans-Polar aviators.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A new expedition, headed by Sir Hubert Wilkins, veteran Arctic and Antarctic explorer, prepared to wing northward today in search of the six missing Soviet trans-Polar fliers. Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, Canadian flier who accompanied Wilkins on the Lincoln Ellsworth Antarctic expedition, directed mechanics as they labored hurriedly to equip the 17 ton flying boat Guba for the first lap of its long journey, an overland flight to Toronto harbor on Lake Ontario.

The expedition planned to set up its ultimate flying base at the mouth of the Coppermine river on the edge of the Arctic ocean.

Working swiftly in a race against the arrival of the long Arctic winter, Wilkins and his men installed de-icers to free the giant flying boat from the danger of a crash from ice-weighted wings—gravest menace of northern flying.

Wilkins said he had been hired by the Soviet government to direct the search. He declared flight operations would continue for several months if necessary to locate Pilot Sigmund Levanefsky, the "Lindbergh of Russia," and his five comrades. The Soviet fliers were last heard from Friday shortly after passing the North Pole on their flight from Moscow to the United States.

PORTUGUESE IN A RUPTURE WITH CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Sever Diplomatic Relations Over Unfilled
Order For Arms

DISCORD DUE TO SPANISH STRIFE

Extent of The Breach
Cannot Yet Be Evaluated Reports State

By The Associated Press.

LISBON, Aug. 19.—An authoritative Portuguese government announced formally today it had severed diplomatic relations with the Republic of Czechoslovakia over an unfilled order of machine guns.

At the same time Portugal accused Czechoslovakia of yielding to the "influences and pressure" of an unidentified "third party" in blocking fulfillment of the arms order.

The newspaper Diaria De Noticias promptly declared, in interpretation of the move, that Czechoslovakia had received "instructions from an eastern power not to supply arms to a country which was a sure guarantee against a Communist Iberian peninsula."

In the same comment, the newspaper declared "Czechoslovakia is the Russian stronghold in Central Europe and perhaps the Soviets' largest air base."

The official Portuguese communiqué bluntly attributed the Prague government's reluctance to permit a Czechoslovakian armament firm to supply a large order of machine guns to Portugal to Portugal's attitude on the civil war raging within Portugal, governed by a Fascist-inclined premier, Dr. Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, lies at the backdoor of the Spanish territory controlled by the insurgent leader, Francisco Franco, and several weeks ago wiped out the international patrol of her frontier against arms and soldiers bound for Spain.

At Moscow, Soviet officials deferred comment pending full information on the Lisbon charge of "third party influence."

Any suggestion that Russia might be the "third party" was denied outright.

London observers pointed out the rupture stood today as Europe's first official "outside" break resulting from the Spanish war.

Authorities recalled that Portugal, Italy and Germany severed diplomatic relations with the Madrid-Valencia government of Spain last fall; but this remained the first case of rupture between two countries, neither of which was a party to the Spanish war.

The extent to which the breach could be regarded as a recurrence of the threat of general European war through the Spanish conflict had not yet been evaluated. The distance between Portugal and Czechoslovakia minimized the possibility.

CHARGE POSSESSION OF UNTAXED LIQUOR

Carl Johnson, residing on East Boonville street, near the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad crossing, was arrested this morning by George Craig of the United States Internal Revenue Department, Dallas Gross, of the state liquor control department, and Constable Forest Pindexter, at his home after two gallons of alleged corn whisky, unlicensed by either the government or state had been found.

According to Craig and Gross the place had been raided several times recently but the officers were unable to locate any liquor.

This morning when the officers went to the place they made an extensive search without results. While Craig and Gross were searching some out-buildings, Constable Pindexter remained in the home with Johnson, and he noticed that Johnson kept watching a room in the northeast corner of the dwelling.

When Gross and Craig returned Officer Pindexter told them of noticing Johnson's actions. They searched the room but were unable to find anything. They then measured a clothes closet and noticed there was about two and a half feet difference in the size of the closet and the measurements of the room.

The officers then took a screw driver and pried in the closet with the result a false wall came out revealing the hidden liquor.

Craig and Gross took Johnson to Jefferson City where he will appear before Miss Edna Morris, deputy United States commissioner, on charges of possessing whisky not licensed by law.

STATE BOARD TO CALL FOR NEW BIDS ON BONDS

Decision Reached After Conference of Officials

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 19.—

The state board of fund commissioners decided late Wednesday to ask for new bids on the $3,000,000 issue of state buildings loans with a stipulation a $150,000 premium be offered.

This decision was reached after Governor Lloyd C. Stark and other state officials discussed at length the private sale of the bonds last month which critics said resulted in a loss of $50,000 to the state.

The bonds had been sold July 20 in Stark's absence to Baum Bernheimer and Co., of Kansas City for a premium of $100,000.

New bids for the bonds will be received by the fund board at 9 a. m. Saturday in the office of Governor Stark, chairman of the board.

In a statement made public late today, the fund board said: "Since certain newspapers have charged that the state would have received a premium of $150,000 and these building bonds were sold at public sale, the members of the state fund board have fixed Saturday, Aug. 21, 1937, at 9 a. m. in the governor's office in the state capitol, as the time and place the board will be in session and invite any financially responsible purchaser to appear with bids setting forth in writing under the signature of the writer that the individual, firm or corporation signing the letter will, if a resale of the bonds is made by advertisement and competitive bids therefore, bid the sum of $150,000 premium for the state building bonds as of July 20, 1937, plus an increase in the bond market between that date, July 20, 1937, and Saturday, Aug. 21, 1937, when said bids are submitted, and that if the bid is accepted by the board of fund commissioners the bidder will immediately pay over to the state the purchase price plus such premium above mentioned, regardless of any legal conditions surrounding the transaction with Baum, Bernheimer and company or any other bond house concerning these bonds, which are now ready for signature and immediate delivery."

INSURGENTS ARE DRAWING NEARER TO SANTANDER

In Advance Overcome Outlying Defenses—In 20 Miles of Goal

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 19.—The Spanish insurgent high command asserted today that Santander's outlying defense, to the southwest of the Biscayan seaport had "melted away" while the insurgent attackers ploughed to within 20 miles of their goal.

The five-day push toward Santander, the government's last city stronghold on the Bay of Biscay, was estimated to have brought capture of 10,000 of the stubborn defenders.

The insurgent column on the Palencia road to Santander, twin of the force operating on the parallel Burgos road to the east, alone has taken 4,700 prisoners. Many of the captured warriors were placed in concentration camps south of Reinosa.

The Palencia road advance guard was reported by the insurgent command to have taken positions dominating the village of Las Fraguas only a short distance north of Las Arenas, which fell to their drive yesterday.

Franco's field commanders installed garrisons in the many mountain villages caught in the broad sweep of his two-pronged northward drive and left cleanup operations to second line troops.

Government reports acknowledged the insurgent gains, in part, but declared the Santander troops, bolstered by detachments of dynamite-throwing miners from Asturias, were putting up a heroic resistance.

A government communiqué said the Italian flag had been planted on Alto Del Escudo, near the Escudo mountain pass on the Burgos road already taken by the attackers. The government has described the insurgent force as built around the Italian "Black Arrow" brigade.

In the San Pedro Del Romeral sector on the Burgos road, about 20 miles from Santander, the government troops staged a brilliant counter-attack and reoccupied positions near Val De Flores, Zarosoa and Cruz Del Marquez, the Madrid-Valencia communiqué asserted.

Miss Sally Craighill, St. Joseph, Winner In First Beauty Finals

Chosen at Liberty Theatre Wednesday Night—
Other Contests Tonight and Miss Sally Craighill, of St. Joseph, gained the right to compete with two other girls from Missouri Friday night at the Liberty theatre for the much coveted title of Miss Missouri 1937.

In a beautiful first night contest with 32 entrants, Miss Craighill won over Miss Esther Jane Greer, of St. Joseph, who placed second in the pageant, the winner of which was hard to pick by the audience.

The group of 32 girls was first diminished to 10 by the judges, then five, three, two and then the winner was announced by E. J.

CONDITIONS FOR SHOWERS GOOD

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19.—The crop-damaging drought in northern and northwestern Missouri counties was partially broken last night by rain, heavy in some sections, and Government Forecaster Roscoe Nunn said conditions remained "favorable" for further showers today.

Maryville reported fall of 1.36 and St. Joseph 1.16 inches. A half inch rain fell at Pattonsburg, in Daviess county. Chillicothe also reported a half inch of rain. Light showers fell in a few west-central communities.

Nunn said general rains are needed in the northeastern and east-central counties of the state where crop damage is mounting.

Weather conditions were expected to continue unsettled in the central part of the country today and tomorrow. Temperatures are warmer than normal but a moderate change to cooler has occurred in the plains states in the past 24 hours, Nunn said. Temperatures in Missouri, which ranged yesterday from 92 to 100 degrees, probably will remain "about the same."

Killed as Truck Overturns

DONIPHAN, Mo., Aug. 19.—(P)—Miss Arlene Morris, 21, was instantly killed and Luther McGorriga, a truck driver, suffered severe injuries when the truck they occupied skidded and turned over near here late yesterday. Fifty railroad ties, loaded on the truck, crushed the cabin in which the two were riding.

SENATE PASSES BILL FOR PLUGGING TAX LOOPHOLES

Back To The House For Considering Minor
Amendments

STUDY POSSIBLE
SURTAX BOOST

Treasury Working Out
Plan To Submit To Tax Experts

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The senate passed today the administration's tax avoidance bill, designed to plug loopholes through which the government has lost about $100,000,000 revenue annually.

Approved after a brief and almost perfunctory debate, the non-controversial measure was returned to the house for consideration of minor amendments.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee told his colleagues the legislation would check the use of personal holding companies, foreign corporations, multiple trusts, and incorporation of personal talents to avoid income tax liability.

It was drafted at the President's request, after a joint congressional committee had investigated scores of corporate devices used to escape taxation.

The bill was adopted without a record vote a few minutes after the senate convened. A single provision was questioned.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) offered an amendment to direct the joint congressional committee on taxation to make a study of federal, state and local tax systems, with a view to eliminating duplications and discovering new sources of revenue.

He withdrew it, however, when Harrison explained that such a study already was under way, and that the committee had made its preliminary report.

Consider Rates Hike
The treasury is exploring the revenue-raising possibilities of a boost in income surtax rates in individuals, officials disclosed today.

The surtaxes now range from 4 per cent of net incomes between $4,000 and $6,000 to 75 per cent of net incomes over $5,000,000.

Officials said it has not been determined how much these rates could be raised, or at what income bracket the increases might start.

The treasury has been working out long-range recommendations for revamping the tax schedule since last spring for transmission to congressional tax experts by November.

This study has been separate from that which developed the loophole-plugging legislation in the current session.

Officials said the suggested changes will be designed to bolster federal revenues to the point at which the treasury could roll up its first surplus since 1930 in the next fiscal year. The government then could begin paying down the $36,900,000,000 public debt, they said.

Authorities predicted changes will be recommended by the treasury in the controversial undistributed profits tax on corporations, but declined to say how extensive these may be.

LIMITATIONS ON U. S. CRAFT REJECTED

By The Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19.—United States authorities today firmly rejected both Japanese and Chinese attempts to interfere with movements of American naval or merchant craft on the Whangpoo river, avenue of escape for Americans or others seeking to flee from embattled Shanghai.

American officials indicated they would refuse to accept a Chinese government notification, compliance with which would mean moving the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, out of Shanghai harbor.

A Japanese naval attempt to restrict traffic on the river met with a decisive message from Clarence E. Gauss, United States consul-general, that traffic between Shanghai and the sea must be absolutely unimpeded.

Other foreign consuls were understood to have made the same reply to a notification from Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Kasegawa, commander-in-chief of Japanese naval forces here, of a desire to impose limitations on traffic on the Whangpoo, along which the most bitter fighting of the Sino-Japanese conflict has raged for days.

PUBLIC DEBT AT A RECORD PEAK

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The public debt reached a new record peak of $36,911,415,047 August 17. A treasury report showed today this figure compared with $33,410,689 on the corresponding date last year.

August 17, government expenditures stood at $1,006,426,544, compared with $779,901,000 on the same date a year ago.

The rise in expenditures this year is traceable largely to a sharp falling off in repayments to government lending agencies.

DIAMONDS MUST BE REAL

Much is being made of the fact that man at last has learned how to make real diamonds. The feat has been accomplished by Dr. Willard J. Hershey of Kansas, who has produced stones as large as one-thirtieth of a carat from gum arabic. He already has made smaller diamonds out of sugar.

It, of course, is not anticipated that a flood of gum arabic diamonds will glut the market and ruin the price. The size is too small, for one thing, but there is an even more important difficulty. This is the perversity of human nature.

People by some instinct, says the Los Angeles Times, want some things to be produced by nature and others by human craftsmanship. There is no particular rhyme or reason about it, but it is a definite principle anyway.

Skilled workers can produce pearls with as beautiful a sheen as was ever effected by an oyster. But what of the price of pearls? The oyster kind come immeasurably higher. They are nature's work. Buyers don't want imitations, no matter how good.

On the other hand, a buyer can go in the open market and buy a beautiful red apple, one of Nature's most perfect productions, for a penny or two. Yet he may have to pay hundreds, even thousands, of dollars for another man-made red apple, not even edible, in the form of some famous still-life painting.

A similar list might go on and on. Gold, as such, is highly valuable. Substitutes just as yellow and shiny are practically given away. Incomparable perfume in a wild flower can be had for the picking. Man-made perfume sometimes costs the proverbial king's ransom.

So it will be with diamonds. Nature in her fiery furnaces has produced them, man may copy her work but the public will not be satisfied. "Real" diamonds must come from the earth. Mankind isn't consistent even in its perversities!

MANY COVERED BRIDGES

From the Boston Post.

How many old-time covered bridges still exist in New England? The average tourist would probably place the figure at considerably under 100, but an Athol woman who, several years ago, started collecting pictures of such bridges as a hobby, already has photographs of 500 of them in New England, many of which she made herself. Rhode Island, she says, is the only New England state which has none left. She has views of nearly 200 of them in Vermont, and thirty-five in Maine, and she states that Massachusetts and New Hampshire have about 200 between them. Few people ever dreamed that so many of the picturesque structures still existed.

INTERFERING WITH TOURISTS

From the Ohio State Journal.

If the various measures being enacted by the different states continue to increase there is a possibility that the time is not far off when Mr. and Mrs. America, greasing the family car for a vacation tour, will decide to leave the old bus in the garage and spend the workless interim in some nearby city park.

Arizona, no doubt taking its cue from the system practiced by California, has put in effect a "port of entry" scheme. Tourists are stopped at these "ports," questioned, examined and so on, and then, if it pleases the august powers which conduct the examination to grant approval, the tourists may proceed. By the same token, if these examiners see fit, they can turn a car back at the border.

Just where this is leading is a little hard to determine. It seems to establish the idea that a tourist from Ohio has no rights in Arizona, and that, to all intents and purposes, the citizen who lives outside the state enacting the laws, is as much a foreigner as if he came from the Gulf of Iran or the Isle of Cyprus.

This country is supposed to be the shining example of the right of mankind of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. If this is to remain true, then if a citizen of New York wants to perambulate in the old hack across the sun-bitten roads and dry washes of Arizona, he ought not to be questioned, so long as he obeys the laws governing the morals and safety of all the people.

Nobody knows how much Ohio, New York and other tax money went through the federal hopper to help build WPA roads and other improvements in Arizona, but plenty of it certainly did, and by all that stands for personal liberties and rights in this country, Arizona has no moral status when it attempts to say what law abiding citizens may or may not enter its sandy, wind-swept desert spaces.

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt and Senator William E. Borah will cross swords next month in a dramatic debate over the Constitution.

The veteran Idahoan, a leader in the fight against the Supreme Court reorganization plan, and one of the authors of the scathing report of the Senate Judiciary Committee, will speak on the night of September 16. The President will follow him on the air the next night.

Both speeches nominally will be in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, and on the surface will have no relation to each other. Actually, however, the two national leaders will engage in a forensic duel.

Borah plans to devote much of his address to a defense of his opposition to the defeated court bill. The President's speech will be in the nature of a reply to the attacks on the bill. Also, if he follows the advice of his more militant counselors, he will serve notice on his foes that he has not abandoned the program and intends to return to the wars at an opportune moment.

New Court Fight

The President definitely expects to renew the court fight next session. What form this move will take has not been decided, but some attempt to revive his far-reaching scheme is certain.

Borah will speak under the auspices of the Masons. The organization's original plan was to have the President and a member of the Supreme Court talk on the same program. Roosevelt declined on the ground that he was already dated up, and no Justice would accept the invitation.

The President's speech will be under the joint auspices of the U. S. Constitutional Sesquicentennial Commission and the Good Neighbor League which campaigned for him last year. The League's director, Stanley High, recently resigned, and a drive is now under way to enlarge its membership.

Well-Founded Story

That angry White House statement, denying that the President is meddling in the turbulent New York majority election, unquestionably is true. Nevertheless, the newsmen who reported that backers of Judge Jeremiah T. Mahoney, anti-Tammany Democrat, were seeking Roosevelt's support, had plenty of authority for their stories.

Their source of information was none other than Edward J. Flynn, Bronx boss and chief Mahoney sponsor.

Emerging from his conference with the President at Hyde Park, Flynn intimated to correspondents, with a knowing smile, that Roosevelt was in his man's corner in the battle-royal among Mayor La Guardia, Senator Copeland, and Mahoney. The newsmen, naturally, did not hesitate to "shoot the works" with a story coming from such an authoritative quarter.

Their reports in next morning's papers infuriated the President. He summoned them and read them a caustic lecture on "gossip mongering" and spreading "false rumors." As the rebuke was "off the record," the reporters had to take it and say nothing.

Later, under the name of the White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre, the President issued a statement of the president's neutrality in the New York scramble.

Astute Politician
Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is only 35 years old, but some of his veteran Republican colleagues could profitably take some lessons from him in political acumen. The tall, handsome, Massachusetts blue-blood is missing few tricks in entrenching himself with his constituents.

While the rest of the G. O. P. contingent in the Senate voted against the wage-hour regulation bill, despite the party's 1936 platform pledge for such legislation, Lodge lined up for the measure. He supported some of the amendments to limit its scope, but on the crucial ballots voted with the Administration.

Several of his colleagues chided him for this, intimating that he ought to follow the policy of his "more experienced" elders.

"The workers and mill owners of my State are for this legislation," he replied quietly, "and that is sufficient 'experience' for me. I pledged my support for a bill of this kind and I am going down the line for it."

Another illustration of Lodge's political shrewdness is his secretarial staff.

Under Senate rules he is allowed three office assistants. Lodge has a staff of six, paying the other three out of his own pocket. And they from one of the ablest groups on Capitol Hill.

Record Importation

At the same time that a bumper crop is reported—totaling over two and a half billion bushels—a new record is being hung up in the importation of corn.

Officials thought they had seen the top in the week ending July 16, when 3,865,000 bushels arrived at U. S. ports. That was an all-time record.

But two weeks later this record was smashed when a total of 5,183,000 bushels arrived. The total for the four weeks was 14,600,000 bushels.

Most of this corn comes from Argentina, but other countries have been edging into the market, notably South Africa, Yugoslavia, Rumania, and Brazil.

Imports will continue to be heavy for some months to come, in spite of the bumper domestic crop, since U. S. corn will not reach the market until late in the fall.

NEW MEDICAL BOOK

BY JEWISH PHYSICIANS

A book just published is the editorial work of a number of distinguished Jewish physicians. It is published to aid the Histradruth, a movement to aid Jews to social regeneration through productive labor on their own land. Its activities, however, are not restricted to Palestine, but in Poland and other places in Europe where young Jewish men and women are being put back to the land on communal farms.

I was very much honored to be invited to contribute to this volume, called "Medical Leaves". The different articles show the wide range of interest of the Jewish physician. Dr. William J. Mayo writes about his books and his reading of the early clinicians whose writings were introduced to him by his father. He refers to the many astute observations of Sydenham nearly three hundred years ago (1624-1689) which are just as applicable today as then.

Effects of Temperature

For instance, Sydenham pointed out the difference in what might be called insulation against heat and cold in men and women. Women, because of the well distributed panniculus of fat all over the body are less affected by heat and cold than are men, who even when clothed in heavy dress suits are chilly, whereas the women in light evening dress and décolletage are comfortable. The kidneys in women are more active than in men, maintaining circulatory equilibrium, perhaps one reason why blood pressure may not carry as high a danger to the heart as in men. Swollen ankles, it was pointed out, are a sign of much more grave import in men than in women.

Here also are recorded the observations of James Paget. He spoke of how the blood vessels became calcified and chalky as age advances—that man became earthy in his vessels and his organs as if he were preparing for the grave.

Organs which are becoming obsolete in the species, like wisdom teeth and little toes, are frequently found in a state of degeneration, undergoing in the individual changes of obsolescence.

Then another observation of Paget's was that steady pressure on any spot on the body would cause ulceration like bedsores, while intermittent pressure would lead to callus and corns.

What They Say

M. N. White (Warsaw)—A few of the rules definitely decided upon for the Lake of the Ozarks Fishing Rodeo, October 4 to 9 are: Everyone can enter except residents of the four counties that border the lake—Morgan, Camden, Miller and Benton—who are barred from competing for the major cash prize. They will, however, be eligible for a trophy. Entrance fee will be $1.00. All entrants must be registered with one of the 162 resorts or camps which are members of the Lake of the Ozarks Association. A fish caught anywhere in the Lake will be eligible for a prize.

Tom Collins (Missouri Pacific Good Will Speaker)—People should have a purpose and plan of action to meet any contingency. I am reminded of a colored man whom I asked what he would do if he received a letter from the Ku Klux Klan. He promptly replied that he would finish reading the letter on the first train south.

M. H. Sagaloff (Manager Sages, Inc.)—Why aren't the tennis courts at Liberty Park kept in condition? Marshall has public courts available and it seems that Sedalia could keep up its park courts. Many players would use them.

CHAPTER 28

AT THE very moment Marcia decided to wait for Sandy at his office, Sandy was hurrying toward the Acme office. His lean face was set in anger, his brows were drawn into a frown above the serious eyes. Even the most casual passerby could feel that there was something threatening about his demeanor. When he reached the Fine Arts building, he pushed the elevator bell viciously, then again. "Here you the first time, buddy," the operator said, calmly, when he finally jockeyed his car into position on the main floor. "No use hurrying, I always say. What goes up must go down." Then with puzzling seriousness he concluded, "And the sooner they all get down and out, the better I like it. Going up?"

In another mood Sandy might have urged the funny old coddler to talk, today he was in a hurry. He wanted to catch Abe before he left for the day.

He pushed his way into the crowded and ornate offices that housed Acme business these days, and informed Mazie in brusque tones, "Mr. Knight to see Abe Zimmerman. And make it snappy."

Mazie almost swallowed her gum, but obediently plugged a cord into her switchboard and announced the impatient caller.

"He says he isn't in yet," she said laconically, then took an incoming call that occupied her attention for five minutes. Sandy was impatient and, knowing full well that Abe was in his office, he pushed the door open roughly.

In silhouette he saw the thickening figure of Abe, seated at his elaborately carved desk dictating to a new blonde secretary.

"Take a letter to Charles Littleton, Dear Charlie," then tell dear Charlie we'd like to have that order at the original price. None of this cry-baby stuff. Once he quotes a price to Zimmerman, he's—"

"Yes, he's stuck with it all right," Sandy chimed in bitterly. "Heaven help the poor cuss, whoever he is, if you've got your dirty claws in him."

"Get going, Miss Schnaltz," Abe ordered briefly, then turned to Sandy. "I thought I told Mazie I wasn't here."

"And that's about as straight as the rest of your actions, Zimmerman. You haven't had the pleasure of meeting me but I'm Andrew Knight. I've come to warn you to keep your hands off my business."

"So. And when is it I've come around meddling in your affairs?"

"In the first place, it's the business of every ethical advertising man to put a stop to cut-throat methods such as Acme has been adopting lately. Secondly, happened to know you were making it your personal business to queer me in a couple of little jobs I've been angling for. When your boondoggling hurts me, I'm just the fellow that will cause you trouble."

Sandy told him emphatically. He was leaning on the highly polished desk, staring directly into Abe's putty little eyes.

Abe swiftly looked away, fidgeting in his chair. He seemed to have nothing to say to his accuser. Gently he pushed one hand, then another on his desk, causing his swivel chair to sway from side to side.

"Sit still, you fool, and listen to me!" Sandy's temper was getting the better of him. Abe's unexpected silence put him at a disadvantage, and suddenly he walked around to the back of the desk. Before Abe knew what was happening, he had given the revolving chair a powerful twist that sent it spinning crazily, with Abe trying desperately to maintain his equilibrium. In a second he jumped from the still moving chair, and rather breathlessly turned to Sandy.

"Look here, young fella. I'm not picking any fight with you," he said, appraising Sandy's height and his lean strength, then retreating a few paces. "I should say not. Now if you'll tell me what's the trouble, maybe we can get down to brass knuckles."

Sandy took a deep breath and launched into a list of his grievances. He reiterated facts that were common gossip among the advertising fraternity, saying, "You're getting a bad name all along the row, Zimmerman. You can't last long in this up-and-coming profession unless you keep your hands clean."

Abe swiftly looked away, fidgeting in his chair.

Almost unconsciously Abe looked at his chubby white hands, then put one blunt finger on a bell on the corner of his desk.

"Calling out the home guard?" Sandy grinned maliciously.

"No, my partner. He's in on all this."

"I thought you were going to say he pushed you in. But now let's get down to cases," he began, only briefly acknowledging Hartley when he came in the office and stood protectively beside Abe.

"I've been working with Saunders on a pretty sweet printing deal, and he told me last week he'd be forced to award the contract to you because you'd made him such a ridiculously low price. I know my price was rock bottom, Zimmerman—and either you're airing a personal grudge against me, or you're working some monkey shins on the side. It's happened more than once, so be careful what you say. I want a straight answer."

Abe hemmed and hawed, looked to Walt for support. The other man shrugged as if to indicate this was not his party. Abe reluctantly admitted, "Oh, it's not you, not at all. You see I just made a very fortunate deal with a printer on that estimate, bought my paper cheap—he spread his hands to indicate how easy it was for Acme to underbid competition legitimately."

"That might honestly happen once, or even twice. But it's happened more than that to me. It's gotten to be pretty much the rule, where Acme's concerned. If you can bulldoze printers into giving you bids like that, you must be playing a squeeze-out game. There's legitimate profit for everybody in this profession, and if you're cheating some poor devil of a printer—that's worse than trying to outwit me. Because I'm in a position to resent it!"

And Sandy looked capable of carrying out his threats.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Donna Rae Knerl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. Knerl, 920 South Montebello avenue, was five years old Tuesday and her mother entertained a number of children in her honor from three to five in the afternoon.

Various games were played, awards going to Larry Vilmer, Katharine Lambirth, and Rose Marie Murray.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the guests, who were: Katharine Lambirth, Betty Sue Martin, Judith Brock, Rose Marie Murray, Larry Vilmer, Gene Lankenau, Virgil Rodgers, Danny Doty, Donale Abele, Ida Mae Bahner, Lillian Ann Bahner, Margaret Ellen Todd, Dorothy Jane and Donna Rae Knerl.

Dorothy Jane assisted her mother in entertaining.

A pleasant day was spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Virgil Morris, of Marshall Junction, in observance of the birthday of Mrs. Morris and Paul Harris.

Guests brought well filled baskets and dinner was served at noon, cafeteria style, to the following: Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson and son, Lloyd and daughter, Lothia, of Malta Bend; Mr. and Mrs. John Grey and children, Minnie Ellen, Dorothy and J. W. of Houstonia; Mr. and Mrs. Will Bratton, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bratton, Mr. and Mrs. Green Harvey, Mrs. John Harvey and sons, Junior Gene and Vernon, Hughesville; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harvey and children, Anna, Lee Harold Mitchell and Geneva Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Morris and daughters, Crystal Mae and Darlene, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Minor Sigman and son, Van, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morris and daughter Betty Jane, Marshall Junction.

At the regular Wednesday morning bridge party those receiving high score at each of the tables were Mrs. C. A. Wright, Mrs. Phil Russell, Mrs. Hugo Sparr and Mrs. Charles Yeater. An out of town guest of Miss Kathryn Courtney was Mrs. W. T. Maltby of Tulsa, Okla.

Miss Lorraine Levy of this city, who is enjoying an eastern tour, writes from New York City that "she is having a grand time, although the bright lights and tall buildings are a bit dazzling."

The annual reunion of the Berkstresser families will be held in Liberty Park Sunday, August 22.

Mrs. Loulu Wendell, an art instructor of this city, has completed an original oil painting, termed "Perfect Love" in which she posed her art students for some of the models. The Madonna was posed for by Miss Lola Moore, the Christ Child, Gary Reynolds Deckard, group gazing on Richard Erickson, Edmund Snavely, Dorothy Castle, Idella Woolery and Bertha Johnson. The picture is on display in a downtown window.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Mitchell, of route 5, announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Nadine Bass, to Mr. William F. Galbraith, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Galbraith, of Chicago.

The marriage took place in St. Louis Saturday, August 14.

All Day Picnic By

W. B. A. Wednesday

Queen City Review No. 7 held an all day picnic at the country home of W. W. Bolton and Mrs. Bolton Wednesday.

Four members who had birthdays in the months of July and August and September were remembered with small gifts.

Pictures were taken of the group. Mrs. Alma Thompson favored the party with two whistling solos.

There were nineteen members present and two visitors.

At noon an elaborate repast was partaken of and all present had a most enjoyable time.

INTENSIFY FIGHT

FOR PRESIDENCY

By The Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 19.—Behind-the-scenes strife in the race for the next president of America's Young Democrats increased in intensity today as the national convention opened, but party chiefs expected Chairman James A. Farley to smooth the political waters soon after arriving tomorrow.

The consensus was that Farley would make known his candidate before Saturday, and that his candidate would be elected quickly.

Party leaders rated Pitt Tyson, Mayor of Montgomery, Ala., as "on the inside track today."

Five other delegates who have announced their candidacies are Judge Charles Bliss of Taylorville, Ill.; Robert Campbell of Wichita, Kas.; Thomas N. Logan of Covington, Ky.; Paul A. Williams of Columbia, Mo.; and Lockwood Thompson of Cleveland, O.

FIND MAYOR'S SUIT REALLY DRENCHED

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 19.—The Surete Nationale, France's central police agency, stiffly declined today to discuss the possibility of an investigation to determine just who squirted champagne on the mayor of Cannes.

John Roosevelt, 21-year-old son of the President of the United States, said he didn't do it—that it must have been two other fellows whom Mayor Pierre Nouveau took for Roosevelt and his traveling companion at Cannes last Sunday.

But the mayor, whose suit was ruined, told U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt by telephone:

"I was told that my attacker was young Roosevelt although I had never seen him before. I regret to say that I am certain now it was Mr. Roosevelt. I wish the whole affair were ended."

The President's son insisted: "I never met the mayor of Cannes . . . I don't know anything about it . . . I have no idea how the situation came up."

Paris morning newspapers ignored the matter and Roosevelt was reported by American sources to have spent a quiet evening with friends in Paris after yesterday's bustle-bustle at the embassy where he entered his denial.

As far as the Surete Nationale's investigation was disclosed, it had established only that the mayor actually had been the object of a champagne and bouquet attack during Cannes' annual "bottle of the flowers."

There had been little doubt as to that after Nouveau's aide, Georges Goin, chairman of the fete committee, told newspapermen how Nouveau had climbed down from his reviewing stand to present a large bouquet and a "pretty speech" of welcome to the distinguished young American.

Goin said the mayor was showered with champagne before he could deliver his "pretty speech" of welcome. Then, Goin said, Roosevelt snatched the bouquet and slapped Nouveau over the head with it.

Goin who remained in Cannes while Roosevelt came to the embassy, reiterated his identification of Roosevelt.

BABE BORN AFTER RESCUE PLUNGE

By The Associated Press.

CLINTON, Ind., Aug. 19.—Slightly-built Mrs. Glenn McGow, who gave birth to a 6½ pound son six hours after plunging into a well to rescue her two-year-old daughter, said today she hoped "I will never get that close to so much water again."

Mrs. McGow, 30, wife of a relief worker, explained she always had a "deathly fear" of water and never even enjoyed wading.

"But I forgot all about that when I saw Mary Nell fall," Mrs. McGow said. "I ran about 25 feet, looked down and saw her blue eyes. I couldn't stand that and jumped in head first."

The well contained eight feet of water, and Mrs. McGow is only five feet, two inches tall.

A son, Charles, 11, who was crawling water prior to the mishap, threw a rope to his mother, held the other end and screamed for help.

Dick McLeish, a neighbor, heard Charles, hurried to the scene and held the woman and her child above water until four men lifted them out.

Mrs. McGow was unconscious two hours after the rescue and gave birth to the boy four hours later yesterday. The baby was born three weeks prematurely.

Physicians said Mrs. McGow, Mary Nell and the baby were "out of danger" today.

PROGRAM BEFORE HOMEMAKERS

The Brick Homemakers club held its regular monthly meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Ray Armstrong with 11 members and four visitors present. Miss Beulah Armstrong was assistant hostess.

At the noon hour a covered dish luncheon with home made ice cream and cake were enjoyed by all.

In the afternoon the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Donald Perkins. The opening songs: Star of the Summer Night, What a Friend We Have in Jesus, and Work for the Night Is Coming.

The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. The roll call was answered by my favorite green tomato recipe.

After the business meeting the following program of songs and poems were given:

Song: Home Sweet Home—Audience.

Recitation: The Little Town—Phyllis Dean Holman.

Poem: House With Nobody In It—Mrs. Vincel Fry.

Song: The Home on the Range—Fern Page.

Recitation: What Is Home?—Nancy Lee Burford.

Recitation: Homes Not Merely Four Square Walls—Dotty Homan.

Song: Take Me Back Where the Swannee River Flows.

Reading: Christ Honored the Home—Gertrude Homan.

Song: Jesus Was a Child Like Me—Lucille Payne.

Recitation: What Is Home With-out a Bible?—Eugene Jiegal.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Gerty, September 18.

CURING HAY CROP TO RETAIN COLOR

Artificial Drying Found to Be Good Practice.

By E. R. Gross, Agricultural Engineer, New Jersey College of Agriculture, WNU Service.

Larger scale production and increased use of machinery have placed greater emphasis on the proper curing and handling of hay to preserve its feed value, prevent shattering of leaves, and to retain the full green color and the carotene from which animals get vitamin A. Observations and research on the new practices in curing and storing have made available more scientific knowledge than ever before.

Earlier cutting, artificial drying and chopping have brought better results in many cases, but have also introduced new dangers. Artificial drying of early cut crops offers possibilities of preserving the green color, a high vitamin content, and saving the tender leaves. Mature hay shatters more readily from field handling. Artificial drying generally requires large equipment which may be too costly for the average farmer. A portable drier operated by a ring of farmers or a custom operated drier are solutions suggested.

Chopped hay offers the advantages of compact storage, easy handling in the operations of feeding, mixing and rationing, and results in more complete consumption. This may be particularly noticeable in the feeding of coarse-stemmed hay. Hay chopping may be especially desirable when hay prices are high. Chopping when associated with artificial drying should create no problem in heating, but care must be taken not to overload mow floors built only for the storage of loose hay. Chopped hay will occupy about one-half the space required for loose hay.

Chopping field dry hay increases the possibilities of loss from shattering because the hay must be as dry as for loose storage, or drier. Chopped hay packs very closely and is likely to heat excessively if it contains more than 15 to 20 per cent of moisture. The farmer must judge the moisture content by twisting a wisp of hay and noting stem moisture and shattering.

Spontaneous combustion, cause of many barn fires, should be prevented as far as possible by never allowing the hay to reach high temperatures. Temperatures of 120 to 125 degrees Fahrenheit are not dangerous but may cause some loss of color and vitamin A.

Vegetation, combined with terracing and other mechanical methods of erosion control, is said to reduce soil erosion to a minimum.

Milk cows in the United States reached a five-year low of 25,040,000 at the beginning of this year but an increase is expected in the next three years.

SAGE'S

One of Biggest Political Prizes In Nation Mayoralty of New York

La Guardia, Copeland and Mahoney in Three Cornered Fight That Attracts Interest Throughout Entire Land.

BY ROGER D. GREENE
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—One of the nation's greatest political prizes—sometimes called second only to the presidency—will go to the winner of New York's mayoralty election on November 2, with possible country-wide significance hanging on the outcome.

It's big business, running the town Peter Minut bought from the Indians, 311 years ago, for $24 worth of gaudy-colored cloth, beads and trinkets.

And the man who sits in city hall, in the heart of the lower Manhattan "melting pot" fringed by Chinatown and the Ghetto, carries more suzerainty than most governors.

He rules—The richest city in the world, with an assessed realty value of $16,599,995.194 and a 1937 administrative budget of $562,998,917.

Biggest population (7,601,575) next to greater London 8,202,818.

World's biggest port, with 577 miles of shoreline within the city limits.

And more public employees (178,468) than any state in the union.

Issue on New Deal
From a national standpoint, the election may well serve as a political weather vane on dolings at the White House. For that is the paramount issue—the New Deal.

Leading the assault, in a weirdly hybrid combination of Republican, Tammany and anti-New Deal Democratic forces, is the gentle-voiced, poke-cracking Senator Dr. Royal S. "Health Hints" Copeland, who likes to sit on front porches and talk over political ailments in the manner of the old-fashioned country doctor.

A Democrat, Senator Copeland has tossed his hat into both the Republican and Democratic primaries, hoping to rally enough anti-Roosevelt votes to conquer his two chief rivals—the incumbent Mayor Fiorello "Little Flower" H. La Guardia, and former State Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah Titus Mahoney, both New Dealers.

Personalities Contrast
A quick glance at the trio reveals sharply contrasting personalities.

LA GUARDIA—Short, five feet, two inches; chunky, hot-tempered, a human dynamo, La Guardia was christened Fiorello Enrico but later Americanized his middle name to Henry.

Famed as a Nazi-baiter, he recently called Hitler "That brown-shirted maniac" and wanted to put a wax image of the Reichsfuehrer in a "Chamber of Horrors" at the 1939 world's fair—an incident which caused headaches in the state department at Washington but failed to silence the volatile "Little Flower."

The first man of Italian lineage to become mayor of New York, La Guardia had previously won seven successive elections as a Republican in supposedly impregnable Democratic districts—six times to congress, in the house of representatives, and once as president of the board of aldermen. He came in as fusion mayor in 1933 to "clean house" after the debacle of Jimmy Walker's regime.

and football games, being photographed in a fire chief's helmet—or in any other pose, any time, anywhere, for that matter; and his chief diversion is listening to symphony concerts and opera. Likes to hum arais. Once wielded the baton at a band concert in a city park—glowed with pride. Loves to follow fire-engines; always among first arrivals, on any scene of disaster.

A brilliant linguist, he speaks German, Italian, French, Yiddish and Croatian. His mother was part Jewish, but to a slur on this heritage La Guardia once retorted: "I never thought I had enough Jewish blood in my veins to justify boasting of it."

He's a staunch advocate of the New Deal.

MAHONEY—Tall, lean, grizzled, with gay sparkling eyes that turn to blue ice chips when he gets his "Irish up." Mahoney rose from the son of a poor Irish immigrant to a $150,000-a-year income in private law practice.

He's a Tammany man but outspoken foe of the present leadership.

Like La Guardia, he is intensely anti-Nazi and resigned as president of the American Athletic Union when it refused to take a stand against American participation in the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin.

He quit the state supreme court bench saying it was "too quiet," adding: "I've resigned from more jobs than most men, and the answer is that I am an impatient restless mick. When I find I have mastered a job, I tire of it. I want to get into the fights of the world."

A former law partner of Senator Robert F. Wagner, Mahoney is one of the few men who ever had a hand-to-hand scuffle with Franklin Delano Roosevelt. That was in 1920 when Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy, and both were New York delegates to the Democratic national convention in San Francisco. Mahoney was guarding the New York state standard and objected when a group of other delegates, headed by Roosevelt, tried to seize the standard to join in a demonstration for Woodrow Wilson. Roosevelt got the standard—but only after a hot struggle.

At 60, he spurs three times a week with Arty Donovan at the New York Athletic Club.

COPELAND—Stocky, grey-thatched, pleasant-voiced, Copeland spent the first 13 years of his working life teaching medicine at the University of Michigan. Entered politics almost unintentionally, through sheer popularity, when elected mayor of Ann Arbor, Mich.; then came to New York, in 1918, when Mayor John F. Hylan appointed him health commissioner.

The Tammany party machine sent him to congress. There, during his two terms in the senate, he was advocated the soldiers' bonus, sharply criticized the New Deal, and once, in 1924, was boomed for the presidency under the slogan.

"Bonus, beer or bust."

In Democracy we trust.

Dr. Copeland, in his 68th year, writes a daily syndicated health article, and in the present campaign would rather talk about health than the New Deal as the main issue, declaring:

"My purpose is to make New York easier to live in, healthier and safer for its thousands of underprivileged citizens."

prietor. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Craighill, of St. Joseph, and is five feet, seven and a half inches tall, weighs 122 pounds and is 20 years old. She was graduated this year from the St. Joseph junior college. While in the Central high school, of St. Joseph, Miss Craighill won a popularity contest.

Miss Craighill wore a white satin evening dress with V neck and trimmed in carnation red chiffon, cut on princess style.

The pageant, announced by Mr. Jordan, began at nine o'clock with the entire group of 32 girls from various towns and cities throughout the state marching out on the stage. Special scenery and lighting effects were arranged.

After a group view of the contestants, each girl was introduced individually so that the judges could have a chance to pick the winner. The judges then picked ten girls from the entire group, and so on until they eliminated all except the winner.

Similar contests will be held to-night and Friday night, with the winner on each night competing for the title of Miss Missouri 1937 after the third and last contest Friday night. Each night there will be a different group of judges and also there will be entirely different judges for the final picking when the winner of each of the three nights will vie for the title.

The order in which the girls placed is: First Sally Craighill, St. Joseph; second Esther Jane Greer, Sikeston; third Catherine Ann Heitmeier, Paris; fourth and fifth Norma Jean Greenhalge, Lexington and Mickey Gladish, Higginsville; sixth to tenth Dolores Doll, Herman, Jean Dark, Charleston, Pauline Hinds, Eldon, Billy Mary Metcalf, Mound City, and Agnes Poiry, Seneca.

Other entrants were: Helen Marie Meyer, Buffalo; Elizabeth Kautz, Bethany; Peggy Brandt, Cameron; Nettie Flakke, Carrollton; Doris Coult, Chillicothe; Claudia Brown, Dearborn; Bobbie Dee Davis, Glasgow, Reta Martin, Green City, Erma Helen Hill, Houston; Pauline Druding, Lebanon; Alma Barclay, Linneus; Frances Stout, La Grange; Stella Lewis, Liburn; Beulah Mae Sellers, Mansfield; Maxine Sharp, Pleasant Hill; Loid Smeeton, Slater; Dolores Kunder, Trenton; Mildred Burton, Warsaw; Roberta Griffith, Windsor and Cecilia Siler, Wheaton.

After the contest Wednesday night all of the girls were entertained at an open air garden west on Highway 50. Each group of girls, excepting the winner, remains in Sedalia only during the day on which they are in the contest. During their stay in Sedalia the girls are entertained throughout the day and are taken on a sightseeing tour of Sedalia.

During the show Miss Margaret Ann Price, of Lexington, was introduced. She will relinquish her title of Miss Missouri 1937 to the winner Friday night.

Flowers for the winning queen and the runner-up were furnished by the State Fair Floral company.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

A PICTURE THAT DARES TO TELL THE TRUTH

"High School Girl," real life drama of present day high school students and their problems, will be the feature attraction at the Liberty Theatre, starting Sunday.

The story deals with the dangers to high school students in the lack of knowledge of life and the tragic results of such ignorance—or innocence, as the case may be.

Months of effort were spent, according to the producers, in gathering authentic data from high schools in all parts of the country relative to the subject, and the story was evolved from a number of actual cases.

The juvenile delinquency in many cases can be traced directly to parents who either have no time or inclination to inform their children, or are ignorant themselves of biological truths. "High School Girl" brings this point home to parents in a dramatic and convincing manner.

The picture is the only one of its kind to bear the Production Code Seal and it also has been passed by the Kansas State Board of Reviews without an elimination.

Not only should it be of pointed interest to young people and their parents, but school officials, social workers and juvenile court authorities will find much in it to interest them in their work.

The showing of "High School Girl" will be limited to persons over 16 years of age, unless accompanied by parents.

In the cast of the picture are Cecilia Parker, Mahlon Hamilton, Helen McKellar, Carlyle Moore, Jr., Crane Wilbur, and others.

LOADING RUBBER ON SMALL BOATS IN LIBERIA FOR TRANSPORTATION TO OCEAN FREIGHTERS

From the Firestone plantations in Liberia comes an ever-increasing supply of the world's finest rubber.
Money saved here and in manufacturing and distribution enable Firestone to sell a safer, first-quality tire at lower prices.

Why FIRESTONE

IN THE Firestone Standard Tire, you get extra value in the form of extra safety. It costs more money to build a safer tire.
But Firestone can build a first-quality tire made of top grade materials and sell it for less money, because Firestone controls rubber and cotton supplies at their sources, manufactures with greater efficiency and distributes at lower cost.
YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process.
YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.
YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.
YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.

Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with a set of new Firestone Standard Tires.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON SMOOTH WORN TIRES!
DO YOU KNOW

That last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

between Shanghai and Woosung—the gateway to the sea and safety for thousands of Americans—must be absolutely unrestricted.

As the Japanese started their offensive Vice Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the Japanese fleet operating against Shanghai, notified the American authorities the Japanese navy wished to restrict traffic on the Whangpoo river over which almost 1,000 Americans have been evacuated.

Gauss replied immediately such action could not be countenanced. Other foreign authorities were understood to have taken a similar stand.

Americans Safe

The American consulate learned that the Japanese planes had bombed the American Mission hospital school and one American residence at Nantungchow, up the Yangtze river in Kiangsu province, August 17. All Americans were safe, according to information reaching the American consulate here.

Just after noon the Japanese army, with reinforcements from Japan landed in the morning, launched an offensive against the Chinese lines linking strategic Kiangwan with the Woosung forts. It was the first time regular troops of the Japanese army had entered the fighting.

The Japanese announced their drive was making "satisfactory" progress and their lines had been pushed forward several thousand yards north of the American Shanghai university. One Japanese report said the Chinese were fleeing.

Chinese artillery batteries opened the seventh day of undeclared but terrible war for Shanghai at dawn, shelling Japanese land positions and warships in the Whangpoo river with a heavy barrage fire.

Throughout the morning the big guns roared in a duel that increased in crescendo but before the expected Chinese land attack could start the Japanese attack was launched behind a counter-barrage that swept both sides of the Whangpoo. The industrial city of Pootung, on the east bank across from Shanghai proper, was in flames. Some 35,000 Chinese troops are entrenched here threatening the Japanese from the rear.

Chinese artillery was pounding the Japanese forces as they came forward into positions. Exceptionally numerous casualties were reported on both sides. The shelling of the Japanese troops east of Kiangwan was murderously heavy.

Fires Are Raging

Fires were raging all over the area, throwing up a giant curtain of smoke between Kiangwan and Shanghai. The flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, the cruiser Augusta, in the foreground of the Whangpoo river, presented a majestic picture against the fire-developed Kiangwan and Woosung sector in the distance.

The Stars and Stripes fluttered from three points fore and aft in the brilliant sun.

Massed squadrons of Japanese bombers were harassing the entire area from Chapel to Kiangwan on the west bank of the Whangpoo and Pootung on the east.

Japanese reports said a Chinese powder magazine and arsenal at Nanking had exploded when it was bombed by raiding Japanese planes. A fire was said to be raging in the capital.

Much of the damage done to Pootung came from the guns of two Japanese destroyers, which slipped mysteriously into strategic positions alongside the Augusta during the night with their lights blacked out.

This went on a truly wartime basis today. Public utilities supplying the essentials of the city's life and activity ordered utmost conservation of their services.

The huge plant of the American-owned Shanghai Power Company ordered every possible economy. The plant, which supplies Shanghai with electric light and power, is situated on the banks of the Whangpoo, deep within the Japanese-occupied territory.

The operators disclosed vital coal supplies were running low. The city will be virtually lightless hereafter with the main current restricted to hospitals, evacuation depots and the like.

Foreign communities already have gone on wartime rations. The American Club, which has become the great downtown center of American interests, is feeding huge numbers of people. The usually elaborate menus, however, have been cut down to soup, beef stew and bread.

Reinforcements were being rushed here for the international settlement guard. The arrival of 1,200 additional French troops from Indo-China was expected momentarily. They will bring the total of foreign troops in Shanghai to approximately 7,000, with 4,000 more on the warships lying in the harbor.

Hostilities Grimmer

The United States has 1,900 marines. Great Britain 2,100 soldiers and France 1,700 soldiers and sailors.

With the arrival of regular Japanese army troops the hostilities entered a new and grimmer phase. By mid-afternoon seven transport loads of Japanese troops, munitions and artillery had been unloaded at the Yangtzepoo docks in the Japanese sector of the international settlement.

Ten more Japanese transports were waiting off Woosung and many more were believed en route from Japan. Two full strength Japanese army divisions were expected.

With the Chinese able to bring almost endless reinforcements from the interior it was thought possible Japan would mass more units of her fleet off Shanghai to keep the Chinese back with continuous shelling.

British troops began preparations for an organized defense of the international settlement against any attempted invasion by either Chinese or Japanese troops. The settlement, they said, would be defended at all costs. Barbed-wire entanglements and sand bag barricades were erected for many miles along all approaches to the settlement.

Order Americans To Depart

The American consulate was unable to explain the cause of the bombing of the American hospital at Nantungchow unless Chinese troops had concentrated nearby. The bare information of the attack came from Miss Nany Fry, of Bedford, Ind., a member of the Central China Christian Mission. The consulate officials telegraphed all Americans at Nantungchow to evacuate immediately.

Consul General Gauss ordered all women members of his staff to leave Shanghai on the liner President Hoover, which will sail from Woosung Friday after a record trip from Manila with 400 reinforcements for the marine squad.

The artillery and aerial battle over the Whangpoo seemed to gain new fury as 1,400 British women and children boarded three destroyers for the ten-mile voyage down the shell-tossed river to the liner Princess of Asia anchored off Woosung in the Yangtze.

The refugees sped through the warzone while the shells from Japanese warships screamed overhead and the Chinese Pootung batteries replied.

As the destroyers cast off from the customs jetty the Japanese warships sidled over to the Shanghai side of the river, leaving the mid-stream channel clear for the refugee vessels. The maneuver, however, placed the British directly in the line of the cross fire.

American naval officers said the President Hoover was making a record run from Manila to Shanghai to evacuate Americans. The Hoover, which is expected at Woosung tomorrow, will carry at least 1,000 American and Filipino women and children to safety. If necessary the liner can carry 1,500 refugees. Almost 1,000 Americans have already been evacuated.

Scorning evacuation, many American women rallied to the aid of wounded Chinese soldiers and the tens of thousands of Chinese refugees whose plight is pitiable. Scenes in the city's overcrowded hospitals were reminiscent of world war days in France when American women, caught by the sudden declaration of war, rendered signal aid to wounded and homeless.

More than 400 Americans and other foreigners were stranded at the mountain resort of Kuling when the Chinese blockaded the Yangtze river at Chinkiang to prevent the Japanese navy from operating against Hankow and Nanking.

Most of them are missionaries, business men, school teachers and students of the American school. Their families are widely scattered throughout China and the paralysis of almost all normal means of communication has left the Americans isolated.

At Nanking, Gen. Mao Peng-Tsuo, field commander of the Chinese air force, declared 34 Japanese planes, including 24 heavy bombers, had been shot down. No Chinese planes, he said, had been shot down although one had crashed and three were damaged on the ground.

Chinese officials expressed the belief additional Japanese planes, known to have been hit, may have crashed in remote localities or fallen into the sea. Gen. Mao estimated the Japanese had lost 150 airmen compared to Chinese losses of three killed and eight wounded.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of China's premier, has been working constantly since the beginning of hostilities. Even during Japanese air raids on Nanking she carried out tours of inspection under fire.

MEAT COSTS MAY SOON BE LOWER

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Meat consumers' pocketbooks now being burned by last year's drought, may get substantial relief before the year ends, livestock market diagnosis indicated today.

Recent declines in wholesale pork prices, market experts said, may presage lower meat costs soon for retail buyers. Some beef and pork cuts now are the highest in seven years or more.

Although it has been a year since the broiling sun and rains since have drenched the grain belt, the full financial effect of the drought now is being felt in the city. Last week prices of hogs and cattle were highest in 11 and nine years respectively. Chicago retail meat prices, representative of many sections of the nation, accordingly have risen 12 to 31 per cent for beef, 14 to 33 per cent for lamb and 6 to 35 per cent for pork since the first of the year.

Experts said the possibility of a general recession in meat hinged largely on the harvest of big grain crops this year.

TWO DIE IN HIGHWAY CRASH NEAR CAMERON, MO.

CAMERON, Mo., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Frederick Johnson of New Orleans and Floyd Gault, 35, a Cameron motor car salesman, were killed in an automobile accident near here last night. Gault attempted to pass a truck on a hill. Mrs. Johnson had been visiting relatives at Osborn, Mo.

bility of direct hostilities, in any case.

Astonishment Voiced

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 19.—The Czechoslovakian government today voiced astonishment over the Portuguese decision to break diplomatic relations because of a munitions dispute.

The foreign office issued a communique asserting "no political or diplomatic conflicts have existed or now exist between Czechoslovakia and Portugal."

"It is, therefore, unprecedented in the history of international relations that failure of business negotiations should have led to this formal and unilateral breaking of diplomatic relations."

The Portuguese government sometime ago negotiated with a Czechoslovakian arms concern for delivery of a certain type of weapon. When it developed this concern could not fill the order—the plant operating to capacity production on a Czechoslovakian government order—the Portuguese government was offered a different type of weapon. This was refused.

The upshot was the withdrawal of the Portuguese minister.

The Czechoslovakian minister is remaining at his Lisbon post.

Due to Spanish Strife

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Portugal's rupture of diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia stood today as Europe's first official "outside" break resulting from the Spanish war.

Authorities recalled that Portugal, Italy and Germany severed diplomatic relations with the Madrid-Valencia government of Spain last fall; but this remained the first case of rupture between two countries, neither of which was a party to the Spanish war.

"Reserving opinion for the present," Czechoslovakian quarters here hinted that Lisbon's action—if irrevocable—was based probably on "irresponsible propaganda about Czechoslovakian connections with the Soviet Union."

Portugal's charges of a "third party" influence in the alleged Czechoslovakian refusal to fill Portuguese armament orders was regarded as the possible key to the dispute.

Russia last fall charged Portugal with "gun-running for (Spanish) insurgent General Franco." Portugal's purpose in ordering arms admittedly was of direct interest to countries opposed to an insurgent victory in Spain.

The mere refusal to sell arms, it was pointed out, was not of itself a matter of sufficient political significance to warrant a diplomatic break.

But both France and Russia, it was pointed out, have been in an excellent position to influence Czechoslovakian foreign policy by capitalizing on Praha's fear of a Fascist bloc in Europe. France generally is understood to have a strong treaty for mutual assistance with Czechoslovakia. Russia is believed to have the same.

The extent to which the breach could be regarded as a recurrence of the threat of general European war through the Spanish conflict had not yet been evaluated. The distance between Portugal and Czechoslovakia minimized the possibility of direct hostilities.

MRS. MARTHA A. SHY DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Martha Ann Shy, aged 80, died suddenly at 8:30 o'clock this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed Ferguson, seven miles south of La Monte. She had gotten up at the usual hour, eaten her breakfast, and soon after died suddenly, death believed due to heart trouble.

Mrs. Shy was born in Morgan County May 30, 1857 a daughter of Isaac and Polly Ann Rich Homan. She was married in 1878 to Theodore Shy and to them four children were born, Theodore who died in infancy, Frank Shy, Pittsburg, Kas., Mrs. Mollie McCormick, Fairplay, Kas., and Mrs. Ferguson. She also leaves four grandchildren and one great grandchild, a granddaughter, Mrs. L. E. Sticker, living two miles west of La Monte.

Mrs. Shy joined the Cumberland church at the age of 13, but after moving to her daughter's home, seventeen years ago, she joined the Prairie View church.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

HEARING IN TRADE PRACTICES CASE

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 19.—Charges that General Motors engaged in unfair trade practices were the basis of a hearing in federal court here today.

The federal trade commission charged the General Motors Corporation and the General Motors Sales Corporation compelled dealers handling General Motors cars to buy parts and supplies from General Motors subsidiaries and affiliates under threatened loss of their franchise.

John L. Horner, Washington, trial examiner, is presiding. E. F. Haycraft, Washington, is representing the trade commission and Albert M. Levert, New York, is attorney for General Motors.

with communities putting up 15 per cent of construction costs. The senate fixed the amount at 5 per cent.

Capital grants up to 25 per cent of development costs. Annual subsidies, of which communities would contribute 25 per cent.

An initial appropriation of $26,000,000 and a $500,000,000 bond issue covering the next three years. The senate approved a $700,000,000 bond issue.

Limitation of cost to $5,000 a dwelling unit. The senate set a $4,000 limit, with a maximum of $1,000 a room.

Limitation of funds for one state to 10 per cent of the total. The senate figure was 20 per cent.

Democratic representatives will meet tonight to discuss the administration wage-hour bill, which the rules committee has blocked. A small group of members wants the party caucus to exert pressure on the committee to permit debate, but leaders predicted this would not be done.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The house roared approval last night of a $26,000,000 program of federal aid to states and municipal low-cost housing projects.

Members were jubilant because passage of the measure cleared away a major barrier to adjournment of congress by Saturday.

Critics shot one amendment after another at the legislation. Almost without exception the house refused by lopsided votes to accept them.

But because house provisions departed drastically from those that won senate approval a fortnight ago, a further struggle lies ahead in a conference in which senators and representatives will attempt to reach a compromise.

Tonight's house action left it up to the senate to wipe clean the session's legislative slate by passing a final appropriation bill and legislation to close tax law loopholes.

For more than nine tumultuous hours house members battled over the housing measure.

In the midst of the give and take wrangle, a 97 to 59 standing vote killed a proposal by Representative Hancock (D-N. C.) to impose a limit of $4,000 per dwelling unit or $1,000 per room on all housing projects.

Similar restrictions were incorporated by the senate. The house, however, accepted the decision of its banking committee that cost should be held down to the average for similar private construction and in no event exceed $5.00 per unit.

The senate approved without debate four amendments drafted by the finance committee. They are designed to:

1. Exempt oil and gas royalty companies from levies applicable to holding companies.
2. Permit deduction of "reasonable" sums for debt retirement from the taxable income of personal holding companies.
3. Avoid unnecessary expense and inconvenience in the filing of reports by multiple trusts.
4. Bring federal regulations on trusts in line with state laws governing capital increments.

Leaders predicted the bill would be adopted with virtually no debate. It reached the floor after Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) of the postoffice committee had succeeded in sidetracking the McCarran air transport bill indefinitely.

Sedalians Make Clean Sweep of Five Tennis Matches at Marshall

Sedalians tennis players made a clean sweep of their five matches with a group of Marshall players Wednesday night at Marshall.

In the singles Al Moore defeated W. Wingfield, 6-2 and 6-1; Bob Hickman defeated L. Hains, 6-4 and 6-3, and R. M. Thomason defeated C. Arndt, 3-6, 6-2 and 6-2.

Moore paired with Rolla McNeil to defeat R. Smith and Howell, 6-2, and 6-0, in one doubles match and Thomason and Hickman defeated Wenzel and Hopper, 6-0 and 6-0, in the other.

CONTESTANTS GET SECOND AWARDS

At the statewide 4-H clubs round-up at Columbia on Wednesday in judging contests, Charles Blumh, of Smithton, was second in judging Guernsey cattle and on Jerseys the Pettis County team, placed second.

In individual dairy judging Emer-Thomas of Jasper County was first, and the team of which he was a member, the others being Russell Campbell and William Moss, Jr., won the right to compete in the national championships at Columbus, Ohio.

SUIT TO CANCEL DEED OF TRUST

A suit to cancel a deed of trust and restrain foreclosure of an eighty acre farm south of Smithton, was filed in the circuit court by August Buttemeyer, administrator of the estate of Rudy E. Rehmer deceased. Rudy E. Rehmer, Jr., Quincy A. Rehmer, Gertrude Lucille Rehmer, Geneva Fay Rehmer, minors by and through their legally appointed, qualified and acting guardian and curator August Buttemeyer against Emil P. Rehmer, Henry W. INVENTOR TO WED POLISH SINGER

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Harry Grindell-Matthews, an inventor who claims to possess the secret of a "death ray," announced today he would be married shortly to Ganna Walska, Polish opera singer and former wife of Harold Fowler McCormick.

The 57-year-old inventor said Mme. Walska was in France but he did "not know just where." He said they met first about three months ago at the opera in London.

Mme. Walska, 45, was married to McCormick in 1922. They were divorced in 1931.

Grindell-Matthews, who asserts that his "ray" could down air planes, set fire to distant objects and strike death at great distances, said he now is engaged in air defense problems in the Marshes of Glamorganshire, Wales.

Grindell-Matthews has done extensive researches in air defense and wireless telegraphy. He has invented an automatic pilot for air planes, submarine detecting devices, simultaneous photograph and sound films, a "sky projector" and a luminograph, an organ played by light.

He was a consulting expert on sound film production for Warner Brothers in the early days of talkies.

MRS. GRAVES READY FOR SENATE SEAT

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Dixie Graves, 55, wife of the governor of Alabama, was in the capital today, ready to serve her state as senator if appointed by her husband.

Governor and Mrs. Graves arrived by airplane from Montgomery last night. Both refused to say whether she would be selected to fill the vacancy that will be created when Senator Hugo L. Black resigns to join the supreme court.

Alabama congressmen, however, said Mrs. Graves would get the appointment.

Graves conferred this morning with Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt, but again declined to discuss the senate vacancy.

"I didn't see the President," he told reporters. "I didn't try to see him. I was just talking over some Alabama projects."

Black's term expires in January, 1939.

Meanwhile, in an unprecedented step, Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, sought to keep Black off the high court.

Levitt asked permission of the court to file a petition requiring that Black prove his eligibility. He contended the appointee had helped increase the "emoluments" of the office by voting for the retirement pension bill and therefore was disqualified.

Attorney General Cummings referred to Levitt's maneuvers as introducing "an element of comedy relief."

MISSIONARIES IN CHINA TO DEPART

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull wired the board of missions of the Methodist church, South, today that 10 of its missionaries will sail from Shanghai Saturday for Manila. The telegram, directed to Dr. W. G. Cram, general secretary of the mission board, said Dr. John W. Cline of Little Rock, Ark., will remain in charge of the Methodist mission in the Chinese city.

The missionaries leaving include Nina Stallings, Mexico, Mo.

Bothwell Hospital Notes. Frank Janisch, Houstonia, was admitted for medical treatment.

Louise Baslee, of Green Ridge, was admitted for surgery.

Music for the service will be in charge of the church choir.

Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

J. D. Whitfield

News has been received of the death last Sunday at Van Alstyne, Texas, of J. D. Whitfield, father of Miss Mary Whitfield, who for many years has resided with Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Busby of 2207 South Kentucky avenue.

Miss Whitfield at the time her father became seriously ill, left here several weeks ago for his bedside, remaining with him until the end.

Mr. Whitfield is survived by a widow and three children, a daughter and son in addition to Miss Mary Whitfield.

Reed Wensell

Reed Wensell, aged 46, a former resident of LaMonte, died at 11 o'clock this morning at his home in Kansas City, according to a message received by R. E. Parker, undertaker at LaMonte.

Mr. Wensell and wife, Mrs. Ora Lee Hedrick Wensell, and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Blanche Brewer, Fort Worth, Texas; Mrs. F. A. Johnson, Arcadia, Kas.; Mrs. Daisy Eckles, Sedalia; Dale Wensell, Sand Springs, Okla., and Claude Wensell, Kansas City.

No funeral arrangements have been made but Mr. Parker was asked to go to Kansas City this afternoon, which led to the belief the body will be brought to LaMonte for burial.

SPANISH FREIGHTER IS DRIVEN AGROUND

ISTANBUL, Aug. 19.—The Spanish government freighter Amurru was reported today to have been attacked and driven aground off Gallipoli, Turkey, by an unidentified submarine.

The ship was fired on last night almost at the same spot in the Dardanelles where another Spanish government merchantman, the Ciudad de Cadix, was sunk by a submarine four days ago.

RETIREES AS TICKET AGENT AFTER 22 YEARS SERVICE

Mrs. Della Snyder, of St. Louis, who is the guest of her son, Roy Snyder and Mrs. Snyder, 302 West Sixth street, has retired from railroad service, as a ticket agent, after twenty-two years of service. Her last post of duty was Cook's station near St. Louis.

Mrs. Snyder was with the Frisco railroad and upon reaching retirement age the company retired her on pension and closed the station over which she had been in charge.

ROLLA PROFESSOR DIES WEDNESDAY

ROLLA, Mo., Aug. 19.—George R. Dean, professor emeritus of mathematics at the Missouri School of Mines and metallurgy here died Wednesday following a long illness. He was 72 years old.

One time associate of the late Charles P. Steinmetz, "wizard" of the General Electric Company's research staff, Dean headed the department of mathematics at the Rolla school from 1897 to 1935 when he retired.

MEAT AND MACARONI SALAD.
—Three cups diced meat, two cups cooked elbow macaroni, one-half cup diced celery, one-half cup diced sweet pickles, salt and pepper, salad dressing, lettuce or escarole, stuffed olives. Have meat diced into one-fourth to half-inch cubes. Drain cooked macaroni and wash with cold water to prevent it sticking together. Combine meat, macaroni, diced celery and sweet pickles.

Season with salt and pepper and moisten with salad dressing. Serve on a bed of lettuce or escarole and garnish with sliced stuffed olives.

Hints for Hungry Young
When there are young folk in the family, there are likely to be constant raids on the refrigerator.
After an afternoon of tennis or hiking, or an evening of dancing, and if you would be the most popular mother in the crowd, see to it that the refrigerator is well fortified.

Pressed corned beef is a favorite in many circles for such occasions, says Inez S. Willson, home economist. A good-sized piece of corned beef can be cooked at once, then pressed and stored in the refrigerator until the occasion demands that it be sliced for sandwiches.

To cook corned beef, cover it with water and allow it to cook slowly until it is done. The water should never be allowed to boil for a temperature as high as boiling water toughens meat. Instead, it should be cooked at a simmering temperature. If the water is very salty, pour it off and cover with fresh water. When the corned beef is tender, remove it from the heat and cool until lukewarm in its own liquid, then place it in a loaf pan or any other utensil suitable for molding. Place a lid smaller than the pan over it, and a weight on this. Store it in a cold place several hours before slicing.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Solving Room Problem

A problem that puzzles many, especially apartment dwellers with uninteresting oblong rooms and "institution" glass windows forming one end, says Mrs. Edna H. Kern, interior decorator, is changing the room shape and dressing up the bleak emptiness of the window expanse.

A beaver board or wooden partition with a high center doorway arch and, if width is sufficient, two smaller arches on either side, placed about 20 inches from the window, gives a delightful balcony effect. Plants placed between the actual window and the partition make the balcony appearance even more realistic and the arches can be draped just as they would be if they actually did lead out onto a balcony. The expense entailed for this kind is very small, and the transformation of an uninteresting shaped room is little short of miraculous. The partition, of course, can be painted or papered to blend with the other walls.

Curdling Tomato Soup

How many times we have all had our cream of tomato soup curdled.
The trouble lies in adding the tomatoes slowly to the heated milk.
Not in adding just the first portion slowly, but in adding all slowly and stirring it carefully. However, if there are too many tomatoes, no matter how slowly they are stirred into the milk, curdling will result.

Apple Sauce De Luxe

One dozen apples, one and one-half cups apple cider, granulated sugar to taste, one teaspoon lemon juice, one tablespoon butter, pinch salt. Wash, core and cut up apples. Put them in a saucepan with the cider and cook until tender, enough to rub through a sieve.

Mixture should be thick. Stir in the remaining ingredients. Pour into a bowl. Garnish with a light drizzling of cinnamon. Serve hot or cold as desired.

Today's Recipes

Chicken Maryland—Cut young chicken into serving pieces. Rub each piece with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. On a plate or platter beat one egg with one tablespoon water until the yolk and whites are well mixed. Have another plate ready with approximately one cup bread crumbs spread evenly over it. Roll each piece of floured chicken in egg and then in bread crumbs, covering all parts well. In a heavy skillet or baking pan, melt two tablespoons butter and two of lard, or similar fat. Put in chicken and brown each piece well. After browning, put pan into moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit, to bake until tender, from 20 to 40 minutes. Have a piece of toast ready for each piece of chicken. At time of serving place each piece of chicken on a piece of toast. Make a rich cream sauce in the pan, by blending four tablespoons flour into flour tablespoons milk slowly, stirring it in carefully to prevent lumping. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth. Season well, pour over the chicken. Have ready thin, crisp pieces of pan-fried ham.

Arrange with the chicken and garnish all with parsley. Serve at once.

Potato Puffs—Cook potatoes, allowing one or two to a serving (depending on the size) in boiling salted water until tender. Drain, mash, season well and moisten with milk. Beat until light and fluffy. For each cup of mashed potato allow one egg. Beat into potatoes. Pick up potatoes in tablespoonfuls, drop from the tip of the spoon onto a greased baking sheet.
Just before serving, put into a hot oven, 400 degrees, to brown and heat through. Or the potatoes may be piled lightly in a baking dish, heated and browned just before serving.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Small Yellow Tomato Preserves
Take two quarts of small yellow tomatoes and two small oranges.
Peel the oranges and cut them in small pieces, but do not peel the tomatoes. Use same amount of sugar as tomatoes. Put tomatoes in preserving kettle, place oranges over tomatoes and add the sugar, one-third teaspoon of water and two pinches of salt. Stir. Let stand one hour. Boil slowly until thick and clear. Seal in sterilized glass jars. A delicious preserve, easily made.

Cool Suggestions for WARM WEATHER MEALS

DELICIOUS HEALTHFUL DISHES

By Martha Logan

It has always seemed unfortunate to try to make grown-ups and children eat some food "because it is good for you." Why not make that special food so good that we can rather say, "I'm sure you want some of this delicious casserole (or omelet or whatever the name)."

We have been planning some good combinations, using liver as the main item. Of course, we all know that liver is a healthful food. It is one of the best sources of iron and copper—so necessary in keeping our blood supply in good condition. Liver, too, contains an extra supply of those important little vitamins that are so rich in appetite and growth promoting factors—especially vitamins A and G—although B, C, and D are also found in liver. From this it is seen that liver is a fine food to serve once or twice a week for health's sake. But let's not over-emphasize that fact at the table. Let us rather prepare the liver dishes in such a tempting way that they "sell themselves." Liver is delicate in flavor and combines so well with bacon, vegetables, and many other food flavors.

First of all, let us dispel the old idea that sliced liver should be seared before using. There is no reason at all for putting liver in either hot or cold water first. However, if liver is to be ground, it is well to sear it first—then the liver slices are easier to handle. Another old idea that should be exploded is that only calves' liver is good. Fresh beef or pork liver is equally nutritious, although the flavor is more pronounced. For baked, stuffed liver, liver loaf, and many other combinations, the greater flavor is desirable so that the less expensive liver may be used to advantage.

Liver, bacon, and onions have long been a classical combination, so we choose several ways of combining these flavors other than the usual fried liver, bacon, and onions.

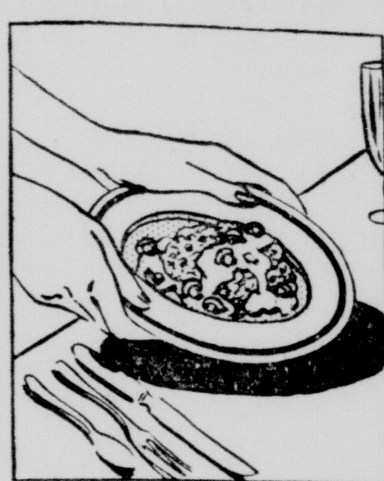

Liver Special

1/2 pound sliced liver.
Seasoning
Flour
1/4 pound bacon
2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups cooked lima beans.

Cut liver in one-inch pieces. Season. Roll in flour. Pan fry bacon cut in one-inch pieces. Remove bacon and keep hot. Pan fry liver in bacon drippings until well browned. Add lima beans, tomatoes, and bacon. Season and heat thor-

Martha Logan Says

Cheese Adds Zest to Corn

In very few families is there ever any leftover corn on the cob to be used up at another meal. It's so easy to finish off one more ear of this luscious corn with pools of melted butter nestling in around the juicy yellow kernels. But we have a recipe for a cheese and corn soufflé that is so good that we leave in the kitchen three or four of the cooked ears so we'll be sure to have some for this luncheon dish. Of course, canned whole-kernel corn will do, but in August we prefer our corn fresh cooked. A helpful hint to insure perfection—an old vintage American cheese with its characteristic sharp flavor makes this recipe Grade A.

Cheese and Corn Soufflé

4 tbsps. butter
4 tbsps. flour
1 cup milk
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup sharp American cheese
1/4 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup whole kernel corn
3 eggs

Melt butter, add flour, and mix well. Add milk and cook until thick. Add salt, cheese, bread crumbs, and corn. Cook until cheese is melted, stirring as it cooks. Remove from fire and add slightly beaten egg yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into large, well-greased casserole and bake. Serve immediately. Creamed mushrooms are delicious served with it.

TIME: Bake 50 minutes.
TEMPERATURE: 325° F., moderate oven.
AMOUNT: 6 servings.

Note: If oven is not regulated, set casserole in pan of water to bake.

oughly. Serve on toast, cooked macaroni, or rice.

Liver Patties

1 1/2 pounds liver, beef, or pork (in one piece)
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 cup cracker crumbs
1/4 cup grated onion
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs.

Parboil liver about 3 minutes and put through a meat chopper. Mix thoroughly with other ingredients and shape into patties. Wrap with strips of bacon, fasten with tooth-picks, and broil until bacon is crisp and patties are browned.

Liver Loaf

1 1/2 pounds beef or pork liver
1 medium sized onion.
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup milk
1 cup cracker crumbs
1 egg

Sliced bacon.
Wipe liver, cut into slices, then run through the food chopper to- gether with the onion. Add crumbs, moistened with the egg and milk. Mix well and pour into a buttered baking dish. Set in a pan of water, cover with sliced bacon and bake for 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven (325° F. to 350° F.).

Liver en Brochette
Metal skewers strung with pieces of sliced calves' liver, alternating with pieces of sliced bacon, make delicious individual brochettes served on buttered toast. Broil as for broiled liver. Other combinations are:

1. Liver, fresh mushrooms, bacon.
2. Liver, veal steak, bacon.
3. Liver, beef sirloin, bacon.

Serve Ice With Meat

We thrive on contrasts, it is said, and perhaps this quirk in human nature is responsible for the vogue of serving frozen ices with the meat course. But whatever the reason, the vogue is desirable.

Mint ice is a favorite with lamb because it is thought that the flavor of mint enhances that of lamb. It does, but try serving mint ice with ham, and you will agree that the combination is excellent.

A combination of orange and grapefruit juice with syrup and frozen is a real tempter with pork chops or a pork roast.

Frozen tomato juice seasoned with a dash of onion or lemon juice is ideal when served with roast beef.

The flavors of grape juice and ham go well together, so why not frozen grape juice, served as a complement to baked ham? It is delicious.

Try serving lemon ice with roast pork. The tart flavor of the lemon enhances the tasty flavor of the pork remarkably.

Economy Punch

Four teaspoons tea, one cup sugar, one lemon, sliced; two oranges, sliced. Pour two cups of boiling water over oranges, lemon and sugar. Cover and let stand for an hour. Then pour four cups of boiling water over tea; let stand five minutes, then strain into the fruit. When cold, set in the ice box until ready to serve. Serve with ice cubes or ice in each glass. Always make it fresh. This is a delicious beverage.

FAMOUS DIONNE QUINS OBSERVE "MANY BIRTHDAYS"

Not many children observe so many birthdays as do the famous five of Canada. About two weeks before their birthday they pose for photographers with birthday cakes, bed promptly at bedtime and not candles, and toys. A week later they usually pose for movie cameras and on May 28, their actual birthday, they have a party with their family and perhaps "go on the air" for an international broadcast. The famous Quins, however, are usually put to bed promptly at bedtime and not allowed many "special birthday privileges."

The splendid staff in charge of the Dionne babies take no chances with their wards. They carefully supervise the babies' food, recreation and sleep. The breakfast cereal which they choose for the Dionne Quintuplets is Quaker Oats.

Oatmeal, as all child specialists know, contains Vitamin B for bracing up nerves, digestion and appetite when they are in poor condition due to lack of that vitamin. And, of course, everyone knows that oatmeal with milk is a fine source of food-energy, protein for building muscles and minerals for building strong, sturdy bodies.

So, when you sit down to breakfast think of the famous Dionne Quins who eat Quaker Oats every day. And, remember, that what delicious Quaker Oats has done for the Dionne Quins it will also do for you.

TRAILER OR PICNIC MEALS SHOULD BE EASY TO PREPARE

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint
Tomato Juice
Toasted Nut Hamburgers Rolls
Cabbage Salad Cakes
Fresh Fruit—Pears, Apples.
Peaches, Plums
Coffee

This menu is planned for a trailer meal or picnic, the latter cooked out of doors. Vacation meals always should be easy meals, says Inez S. Willson, home economist. Plan to have easily prepared foods but plenty of them, because cabin or trailer appetites are always ravenous. The foods, even more than at any other time, must be substantial; therefore, see to it that generous servings of meat are included.

Usually it will be possible to obtain fresh meats for these meals, but just in case not, have a supply of canned and cured meats on hand. There is a wide variety of canned meats from which to choose. Start the list with corned beef hash, chili con carne, dried beef, beef tongue, veal loaf, meat balls and spaghetti, and a variety of potted meats, and replenish the stock as soon as possible after one or more varieties have been used.

Ground meat, because it is cooked so quickly, is a popular fresh meat with campers, but this should be purchased only a short time before it is used, unless the trailers or cabins are really de luxe with plenty of refrigerator space. As a little different variety of hamburgers, here is one which is extraordinarily good.

Today's Recipes

Toasted Nut Hamburgers—One and one-half pounds ground beef, three tablespoons chopped pecan or walnut meats, six tablespoons chopped parsley, two tablespoons finely minced onion, three slices bacon. Divide the ground beef into six individual servings and form each one into two round flat cakes. Press well together so that they will hold their shape. Combine chopped nut meats, onion and parsley and spread on top of six cakes. Place half of a bacon slice on top of the nuts, and the remaining six cakes as covers on each. Pinch the edges together, and broil or pan-broil the cakes until they are done.

Menu Hint

Ham With Rice and Gravy
Green String Beans
Lettuce Salad
Chess Cakes
Coffee

I am giving you another tasty recipe for ham. Rice is a substitute for potatoes that we do not always remember to use, although in some parts of the American continent it is used more often than the "spuds." I am giving you an old recipe for the popular chess cakes.

TOMATOES STUFFED WITH HAM SALAD—Five ripe tomatoes, one cup cold diced celery, one-fourth cup diced cucumber, one-fourth cup diced onion, salad dressing. Choose tomatoes of uniform size. Hollow out the centers. Combine with diced baked ham, celery and cucumber. Moisten with salad dressing. Refill the tomatoes and serve in lettuce cups.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

BARTLETT pears are news this year. A really bumper crop of this delicious fruit means low prices and plenty of them to go round. Apples, too, are going to be plentiful and cheap.

Meats continue high with lamb still the best value, and poultry, with the exception of ducklings, is higher. Fish is a reasonably priced food. Eggs and cheese are relatively inexpensive and may be used for luncheon and dinner main dishes. Butter prices continue below last year's level.

Homegrown vegetables are plentiful and cheap. A generous use of vegetables will help a little meat go a long way.

The following menus call for seasonable, reasonably priced foods.

Low Cost Dinner
Cream of Corn Soup
Deviled Eggs Potato Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Pears and Plums Cookies

Grocers offer this HOT-WEATHER SPECIAL for Health and Fitness

1 When you see members of your family looking tired and "down-in-the-mouth"—unable to meet the added drag of hot days—the cause may be constipation.

2 The most common type of constipation is due to meals that lack sufficient "bulk." Try serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily and see how quickly the condition is relieved.

3 Send him off to the office with a spring in his stride—ready to lick the day's job—no matter how hot the weather. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity

RIGHT NOW, grocers are featuring a special that may help you face these hot, humid days without discomfort!

Common constipation makes the heat of summer twice as hard to bear. To keep well and energetic when it's 90° in the shade, you need to be fit inside as well as out. Get a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN from your grocer and serve this laxative food regularly for regularity.

In addition to "bulk," ALL-BRAN supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into recipes. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity

ROSENTHALS AND M. F. A. REACH TOURNEY FINALS

Marshall Team Scores a Surprising Triumph Over Shop Club

Last Night's Scores

Rosenstals (Sedalia) 2, Slater 0.

Friday's Games
M. F. A. Girls (Marshall) vs. Rosenthal Girls (Sedalia), exhibition.
M. F. A. (Marshall) vs. Rosenstals (Sedalia) championship final.

The M. F. A.'s of Marshall and the Rosenthals of Sedalia rode into the finals of the annual district softball tournament at Liberty Park last night on two of the classiest pitching performances thus far in the Central Missouri championship meet.

Lanky Bob Alpert hurled the Rosenthals into the title round with a one-hitter against Slater while Lear, M. F. A. moundsman, gave only three hits as his teammates registered a smashing upset by eliminating the Missouri Pacific Boosters, local champions, 3 to 1.

Both the Rosenthals and the M. F. A.'s played errorless ball and thereby hung the tale. Two misplays in the field and Hays' wildness proved costly to the Boosters while an error gave the Rosenthals their first and incidentally winning tally.

The only blow off Alpert's delivery was a scratch hit to the box which he knocked down but failed to recover in time to catch the runner at first.

In defeating the Boosters, the M. F. A.'s registered a striking reversal of form over their performance of Tuesday night when they barely roused out the Savage Producers, another Sedalia team, scarcely considered in the same class with the local titleholders.

As a result of the outcome of last night's games the Rosenthals and the M. F. A.'s will clash Friday night for the district championship and the right to represent the Central Missouri area in the state meet next month.

Charley Patterson Gets an Ace at Country Club

Charley Patterson joined the hole-in-one club Wednesday afternoon when he sank his tee shot on No. 7.

"Little Dinkie," at the Sedalia Country Club. He used a seven iron for the ace, the first of his career.

Playing with him at the time were Lawrence Barnett, E. P. Neef and Norman Scotten, the club professional.

"EXPERTS" WHO WENT OUT ON CREAKY LIMB FOR CUBS ROMP BACK

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The "experts" who climbed "way out on that creaky limb for the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks ago were scrambling all over each other today, trying to get back before the thing broke in two under them.

You could hear it cracking wide open all over the National League, particularly in gleeful New York, whose galloping Giants were only two games off the pace; in Pittsburgh where the once more pounding Pirates were moving along at their fastest pace since early in the season, and in glum Chicago, whose Cubs were giving unmistakable signs of quietly folding up and stealing away.

That once lengthy lead on which the Cubs were riding is disappearing with all the speed and completeness of a hot dog in the hands of a hungry fan, while the Giants and Pirates are pulling up for a finish fight.

The Cubs pinned the fifth straight setback on the injury-finned windy city wallpapers yesterday, winning 7-6 with a two-run rally in the ninth, to climb back into a virtual tie for third place. At the same time, the Giants, making the most of their newly-discovered ability to hit timely behind their top-flight flinging, belted the Bees, 9-1, for their fifth straight win, and were only a pitch and putt off the pace. Carl Hubbell turned in a seven-hitter.

The Pirate victory was also the Bees' fifth in a row, and made it look like the Pittsburghs may finally be coming out of their sleep-walking habits of recent years.

While the Giants have been taking the second division Phillies and Bees during their current streak, the Pirates have run into the tougher sockers from St. Louis and Chicago, with the same results. It appears the Giants and Pirates may yet fight it out for the flag, with the Cardinals still to be heard from and the Cubs praying for fewer bandages on more ball-players.

State Softball Tourney Awarded to St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The Missouri state softball tournament was awarded to St. Joseph for September 4 to 6 inclusive here yesterday by the state softball board of which Fred Hoffman of St. Joseph is chairman. Bids were made for the meet by Brookfield and Kirksville.

Girls' teams will compete for the first time this year. Men's teams will be sent here from Hannibal, Kirksville, Trenton, Kansas City, Maryville, Joplin, Springfield, Flat River, Sedalia and Boone Terre. The Mokins of St. Joseph, defending champions, will enter the meet without playing in the district tourney, thus giving St. Joseph two state title contenders.

FIGHTS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

By the Associated Press
DETROIT—Buddy Knox, 194, Dayton, O., outpointed Ed Wenstob, 211, Canadian heavyweight champion, (10).
PHILADELPHIA—Tommy Cross, 132½, Philadelphia, knocked out Al Casimiri, 126½, New York, (1).

Today a Year Ago—Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock forced to call off title bout with Max Schmeling because of arthritis; Glenn Cunningham set world record of 1:47 for 800 meters.
Five Years Ago—Dodgers blanked Reds, 6-0, to take second place, two games behind Cubs.

ATHLETICS FACE ODESSA TONIGHT AT LIBERTY PARK

Game Will Be Sedalians' Final Appearance of Season at Home

The Sedalia Athletics bring their home baseball season to a close at Liberty Park tonight when they take on the Odessa Merchants in a return engagement at 8:15 o'clock.

Ned Verts will be on the mound for the home forces in an effort to turn the tables on the visitors who scored a 3 to 0 triumph over the A's here two weeks ago. The loss to the Odessans incidentally was the only shutout administered the Sedalia club this season.

With the exception of Verts who is being imported from Miami, Mo., the Athletics will line up as usual and Odessa is expected to start the same aggregation it used in its first appearance here with Wallace, who lurled the shutout, down for the pitching assignment.

Because of plans to start construction of the new grandstand at Liberty Park, the Athletics will be forced to finish the remainder of the season out of town diamonds.

The Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Both sides got a square deal when Waynesboro, Miss., and Beirne, Ark., clashed in the national semi-pro tournament at Wichita, Kas., the other day....The umpires were Fair and White....If Louis and Farr cross $300,000 you'll not hear Mike Jacobs moaning....The "Bill Terry Day," which started off with such a bang, has been called off because of "lack of cooperation"...."Mad John" Leon, a familiar Broadway character, is having a great time spending the 65,000 he cleaned up on the greyhounds at Mineola last week.

Tom Laird, sports critic for the San Francisco News, looked over Tommy Farr and didn't like what he saw...."For $5,000 I'll fight the bloke on 43rd street at ten minutes' notice," he says....Add youngest sports editor contest: Mike Vaton-sion, of the Springfield (Mass.) Messenger, bolts up and says he's only 15....(The ten and twelve year old guys will please have their papers write)....Ray Flaherty, coach of the Washington football Redskins doesn't have to worry much with such guys as Dixie Howell of Alabama; "Slingin' Sam" Baugh of Texas Christian and Chuck Bond of Washington U. around.

Max Schmeling brought over a German cuckoo clock for Mrs. Eddie Mead, wife of Henry Armstrong's manager....When Armstrong fought Johnny Cabella in Washington the other night, Al Jolson (who owns the Negro) had a special radio hook-up installed so he could hear the fight....Cost, $3,500....English fight promoters are getting ready to slap two or three suits on Tommy Farr the minute he returns home....Washington baseball writers, here with the Senators, say Bucky Harris will be back at the helm of the Senators next year despite those yarns that Joe Cronin will return as president and general manager.

Tommy Farr says Bob Olin, the light-heavyweight, is the best man he ever fought....What a surprise Mr. Farr has coming!....Joe Louis is the 15th boxer to hold the world's heavyweight title under the Marquis of Queensbury rules....Those Giants are a different ball club with little Dick Bartell in there regularly.

Richmond (Va.) in the Piedmont League is hot on the trail of Norman (Iron Man) Almond, who recently pitched two shutouts in less than a week for the Richmond American Legion junior team....(Big league scouts are there, too)....Those who know him say Milt Herth, the organ expert, can lick most of the light-weights in the business....He trains regularly at Philadelphia Jack O'Brien's spot and once a week goes into the ring with a professional....Everybody along Broadway is wondering just what Al Weil, (manager of Lou Ambers) had in mind when he offered $35,000 for Tommy Farr's contract effective after the Louis fight.

This Youth "Belongs" to Three Big League Clubs in a Few Days

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Blond Bill Batteree is only 16 years old but already he has "belonged" to three major league baseball clubs—and all in the space of a few days.
During a recent regional sandlot tournament at Carrollton the husky backstop of Georgia's champs signed with St. Louis of the National. His coach, Herb Thomas, promptly persuaded him to tear up this agreement and join up with Detroit.
Then Bill went home and with the approval of his parents—which was needed to make any of the agreements binding—signed with Boston's Red Sox.

ALL-STARS AND PROS MAY PRESENT A WIDE OPEN SCORING AFFAIR

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—The 75,000 or more fans who will attend the fourth annual all star football battle between college headliners of 1936 and the Green Bay Packers at Soldier Field September 1, may see the long awaited wide open scoring spectacle at last.

The previous games of the series were expected to produce furious scoring displays, but nothing of the kind happened. The Collegians held the Chicago Bears to a scoreless tie in 1934, and the Bears won the 1935 game, 5 to 0. Last year touchdowns showed up for the first time, but the Detroit Lions were forced to settle for a 7 to 7 draw.

The current all star outfit apparently lacks the defensive power of the previous teams, but looks stronger offensively.

The Packers boast ample scoring power, particularly with the famous passing combination of Arnold Herber to Don Hutson.

The All Stars' first formal scrimmage, set for yesterday, was deferred as the coaches sent the boys through the long sessions on offensive work. Joe Riley, Little Allama halfback was the star of a punting drill, getting off numerous boots of 60 yards on the fly.

Schmeling Returns to Start Another Bid for Heavyweight Title Go

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, who knows the Atlantic Ocean as well as most people know their front yard, is back in town to start another installment of his hunt for the heavyweight championship of the world.

The big German completed his fifth trans-Atlantic trip within little more than a year yesterday, and immediately went into a lull with newspapermen, who emerged with the not-too-startling news that the Uhlans considers Tommy Farr a pushover for Joe Louis.

Sometime today, Schmeling will talk with Mike Jacobs concerning a bout with Louis. Jacobs is willing to put on a bout between the Farr-Louis winner but he differs sharply with the German on terms.

Michael wants Schmeling to take 20 per cent of the gate and sign under his banner for a two year stretch. Max wants 30 per cent and says he has no intention of giving Jacobs an exclusive option on his services.

"I will sign for one fight only—Louis or Farr," Schmeling said. "And I will demand 30 per cent of the receipts. A week before he fought Braddock, Louis sent me a letter in which he said that if he beat Jimmy, he would make his first title defense against me and split 60 per cent of the gate with me. I understand Mike Jacobs was agreeable to this."

The black Uhlans' reply to a question: "What's Farr got," was short and sweet.
"Exactly 208 pounds—nothing else," replied Max. "Louis will kill him."

Columbus Might Trade Him for Dean Brothers

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Bill McGee, the Columbus Red Birds' ace righthander, is doing a pretty good job of demonstrating the St. Louis Cardinals would have done well to keep him.

McGee, sent to the Columbus branch of the Cardinal chain early in the season, last night turned in his 16th victory of the campaign, trimmed Minneapolis' first place a 3 to 2 decision over the American margin to two games.

WHEAT TAKES A SHARP DECLINE

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Enlarged arrivals of newly harvested domestic spring wheat in the northwest counted heavily today as a weight on prices.

More than four cents a bushel extreme collapse of wheat quotations here was witnessed, with Chicago May wheat contracts touching a new bottom price record for the season. Receipts of wheat at Minneapolis and Duluth today totaled more than triple the quantity a year ago.

At the close, wheat was 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents under yesterday's finish, Sept. 1.07 to 1.07 1/2, Dec. 1.09 to 1.09 1/2, corn 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cent down, Sept. 98 to 98 1/2, Dec. 97 1/2 to 98, and oats unchanged to 1/2 cent lower.

TIMELY BRIEFS OF SHOPS AND RAILS

Mrs. F. L. Hanigan and daughter, Dolores, and son, Marvin returned Wednesday evening from Coffeyville and Edna, Kas., where they have been visiting relatives for the past few days. Mr. Hanigan is a stenographer in the storekeeper's office at the shops.

Workmen have been busy the past few days setting posts to be used in erecting a wire fence on the south platform at the store room for the storing of journal brass, brass castings and other material made of brass.

Engine No. 6421 which has been undergoing repairs at the shops was taken out for a break in Wednesday.

W. E. Blankenship, machinist, was a week end visitor in Paragould, Ark.

Mrs. Lawrence Dyer of Fort Smith, Ark., has been visiting relatives in Sedalia for the past few days.

The Missouri Pacific softball team which recently won the city championship, won 21 and lost 5 for the season to date. Leo No. land, manager, plans playing a number of out of town teams as soon as the tournaments are over. The team is sponsored by the Booster Club at the shops.

A large number of shop employees have indicated they will make the trip to Cole Camp Friday night as a part of the Good Will campaign the Missouri Pacific is sponsoring during the month of August. There will be a special train leave the Missouri Pacific depot at 7 o'clock and the program is expected to start at 8 o'clock. The Booster softball team will meet the Cole Camp team. The Booster Band will play a concert and there will be several short speeches. P. R. Nichols, chief booster, and Harry Homans, machinist, will be the speakers from Sedalia. All Missouri Pacific employees and their friends are invited to make the trip and have a good time.

Elmer Butler and Harold McGill, production engineers for the Missouri Pacific with headquarters in St. Louis are in the city this week on company business.

L. A. Raebler, blacksmith, spent Sunday in Marshall, visiting with friends.

Mrs. E. W. Schultz and children are in Kansas City where they were called by the serious illness of Mrs. Schultz's mother. Mr. Schultz is a car inspector in the local yards.

L. W. Howe, lift truck operator in the coach shop, has been off this week on account of sickness. He is reported to be a little improved.

Miss Mary Smasal, nurse at the first aid station, has resumed her duties after being off the past two weeks on vacation, part of which was spent in New Orleans and Memphis.

J. A. Pierce, general freight car foreman, has returned from Detroit, Mich., where he spent several days on company business.

F. R. Hosack, assistant mechanical officer for the Missouri Pacific, with headquarters in St. Louis, was in the city this week on company business.

Regular safety meetings were held in the shops Wednesday with various supervisors in charge. In the coach shop, H. M. Kelly, general foreman, stressed safety in his talk, together with reference to the work in that department. In the freight shed, H. F. Rapp, assistant car foreman, spoke on safety and solicitation of business and the car program now under way in this department. Leo B. Herfurth, blacksmith foreman, was the speaker at the meeting in the blacksmith shop, and H. L. Judd, pattern shop foreman, in that department. W. F. Schwenk, parts foreman, and Wm. Allcorn, electrician foreman, were in charge in their respective departments.

Arthur Johnson and William Allcorn, messengers at the shops, and Roll McNeil, clerk in the supply department, were in Marshall Wednesday evening where the Sedalia tennis team met the Marshall team in a match. They are members of the Sedalia team.

Miss Myrl Love, who has been working in the St. Louis office for the Missouri Pacific has been assigned to the position of comptometer operator stenographer in the same office.

Workmen have been building material racks and bins on the south side of the reclaim plant to be used in the storing of material.

YOUTH KIDNAPS PILOT OF PLANE

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 19.—(P)—A youth giving the name of Jack Hamerly, 19, was held last night on a kidnaping charge after the mid-air abduction of an airplane pilot.

The youth was quoted by detectives Arch Spreadley and Ira Williams as admitting he drew a pistol on Pilot Bob Hunt 2,000 feet in the air and ordered him to fly to Laredo.

The forced flight ended when Hunt snatched his captor's pistol as the latter bartered with a farmer near Rosenberg for gasoline to continue the hop.

Hunt said Hamerly arrived at the Houston airport in a taxicab. Cab driver Bill Ray said the cab was taken from him at pistol point near the airport.

The aviator said the youth went up with him in the plane, which belonged to Francis Walton, pretending he planned to take flying lessons from Hunt.

"About 2,000 feet in the air," Hunt said, "the boy poked a pistol in my back and told me to head for Laredo. I told him I didn't have enough gasoline and had no money. The boy said, 'Never mind, we'll just mooch some gasoline.'"

"I set the plane down at the first convenient spot, which proved to be a field on Harlem State Prison farm. When the boy discovered we were on the prison farm, he made me take off again without waiting to look for gasoline."

Later Hunt landed in a pasture near Rosenberg. Hamerly started negotiations with a farmer for some gasoline. Hunt slipped around behind his abductor, grabbed the pistol and sent for officers.

M. D. WEATHERS MADE OFFICER

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Aug. 19.—(P)—A resolution favoring a referendum on the one-cent Missouri gasoline tax increase was adopted by the state Retail Grocers Association at its annual convention ended here Wednesday.

Officers re-elected are E. H. Glenn, Kansas City, president; Victor Maurath, St. Louis, first vice-president; Phil Fischer, St. Louis, second vice-president; John Mannschreck, St. Joseph, third vice-president; M. D. Weathers, Sedalia, fourth vice-president; William Thompson, Joplin, fifth vice-president; John T. Westfall, St. Louis, secretary; George B. Croner, Kansas City, treasurer, and Jim Brown, Kansas City, sergeant-at-arms.

No site was selected for the 1938 convention, to be held in October.

CORNERSTONE FOR NEW POST OFFICE

CALIFORNIA, Mo., Aug. 19.—Jesse M. Donaldson, acting first assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., attended cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new postoffice here Wednesday.

Congressman W. L. Nelson also was present. Col. Albert Linzweier, postmaster at Jefferson City, served as acting grand master of the Masonic order in its part of the ceremony. L. P. Embury, California attorney, was master of ceremonies.

Postmasters of the second Missouri district met after the dedication with Leonard Moore, California postmaster, as host.
